Meet Saturday on new Venice housing code

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer
A special meeting of the Venice City Council has been called for 1 p.m. Saturday at the City Hall to draft and adopt an ordinance establishing minimum standards for housing and related regulations such as occupancy permits.

The meeting was called by Venice Mayor William "Mike" Ebersold, during the regular council meeting Tuesday night. According to City Attorney Harry Hartman, the ordinance is about 25 pages long and when adopted will be published in pamphlet form.
Some questions have been raised by the aldermen over fees, space requirements, enforcement, inspection and repairs to property.
Concern also has been expressed that the ordinance must be fair to both the renter of the property and the landlord. It was noted by one council member that tenants can destroy property that the landlord puts in good repair.

"We can meet Saturday and go through this ordinance step by step and iron out any provisions the council feels should be changed. Any citizen interested is welcome to attend the Saturday meeting," Ebersold said.

A letter from Frank A. Kirk, director of the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs, asked the city to submit projects that the state may aid. Kirk said his office and the Capital Development Board are making a survey on potential short-range projects for local construction that the cities are not able to finance.

"We ought to see if the state will pay for the dewatering and completion of the Broadway relocation project," Alderman John Ervin said.

Work on Broadway relocation has been halted due to the high water table and estimates of dewatering cost range from $120,000 to $300,000.

Added bus service

Routes on three Bi-State bus lines—Forest Park, Grand and Pontoon Express—will be extended starting Monday, Feb. 10, James E. Terry, Bi-State Transit System general manager, announced Wednesday.
"These three extensions," Terry said, "are part of Bi-State's continuing efforts to improve transit service throughout the metropolitan area."

"Since the new reduced fares went into effect a little more than a year ago, we have inaugurated 14 new lines, extended service on 26 lines, and added bus trips on 38 lines. Further route and schedule improvements are planned." The Pontoon Express bus line providing rush-hour service, Mondays through Fridays, from Granite City to St. Louis will be extended in Granite City to serve a residential area and the Pontoon Plaza Apartments along Woodland and Sara avenues which currently do not have transit service.

On the extended portion of the route, buses will continue on (Continued on Page 4)

Party chairman's future uncertain?

It was reported this week by the Illinois Supreme Court that it has issued a rule, the net effect of which would be to cause Walter T. "Buck" Simmons of Venice to resign as chairman of the Democratic Party in Madison County by April 1.

The new rule is that appellate clerks "shall not be involved in political activities," Supreme Court Administrator Roy O. Gulley said.

Clerk of the Fifth Appellate Court District based in Mount Vernon, Simmons said this week he was unaware of the new ruling but that he would resign as party leader rather than giving up the clerk post. He has not reached retirement age and hopes to continue serving as appellate clerk, he stressed.

Who would have sufficient backers to become the next county Democratic chairman is uncertain at present.

The long list of potential chairman might include the three local mayors, County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer and Sam Wolf, a Granite City realtor who is the party's secretary-treasurer.

'Friends' busy organizing; object—campaign funding

Press-Record incorrectly termed it a "benefit" event in Monday's issue.

Briggs, a Nameoki Township resident and former teacher and principal in the Granite City district, was appointed and later elected as superintendent of the Madison County Educational Service Region. The salary was increased by the state legislature from $27,000 to $32,000.

He estimates a $5,000 deficit from the successful 1974 election campaign.
A similar dance was held in February a year ago.

The continuing campaign organization seeks to raise funds for past and future election activities. Briggs is chairman of the Friends, a group that was organized effective Jan. 1.

Four additional groups in the Quad-City area have filed campaign disclosure statements with Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles. The groups are: City Club, 1533 Ridgely Ave.; Ernest B. Eli, treasurer, United Steelworkers of America Officers' Council of Granite City; Walker Norn; and (Continued on Page 4)

18th St. truck route okayed

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer
Official designation of a specific truck route that would remove heavy truck traffic from Nineteenth Street and Niedringhaus Avenue in the downtown area was authorized by the Granite City Council Monday night.

Council members approved unanimously a motion by Alderman Steve Basarich of the Fifth Ward that City Attorney George Filcoff be instructed to prepare an ordinance establishing a truck route. Basarich's motion specified that the ordinance establish the truck route on Eighteenth Street from Madison Avenue to Benton, on Benton to Niedringhaus Avenue and on Niedringhaus to FA Route 151. The aldermen suggested during brief discussion that the curve from Eighteenth to Benton may present difficulties, but others said a parking ban in that particular area would solve the problem of sufficient room for passing trucks.

The Eighteenth Street route for truck traffic has been discussed at length by Chamber of Commerce and city officials as a means of eliminating the hazards and inconvenience of tractor-trailers and other heavy trucks using streets in the business district, particularly Nineteenth Street and Niedringhaus Avenue. Alderman Ronald Coleman of the Seventh Ward said that the council's Traffic Committee had held numerous meetings with Chamber of Commerce representatives concerning such a route, but that nothing had yet been done to officially establish such a route. He said he believed that such an ordinance should be brought before the council and approved as soon as possible.

Alderman Walter Norn, Fifth Ward, told the council that the city will need to improve Eighteenth Street before it can handle any substantial amount of heavy truck traffic. Working plans are being prepared by Harland Bartholomew and Associates, St. Louis, planning engineers, for enlargement of the intersection at Eighteenth Street and Madison Avenue and for installation of electric traffic signals with left turn lights at that point.

Authorization for planning the signal installation was granted by the city nearly two months ago when it became apparent that Eighteenth Street would be the only logical selection as a truck route to avert trucks from the downtown area.

Cost of the project will be shared by the city and the state, according to Mayor Paul Schuler who agreed this week that success of a truck route on Eighteenth Street would depend upon traffic signals to keep truck traffic moving into and from Madison Avenue. In other council action Monday night, Mayor Schuler said the city will check into the legality of using some of its manpower provided free under the Emergency Manpower Act.

Schools, some offices will close Feb. 12

Public and all but one parochial schools will be closed Wednesday in observance of Abraham Lincoln's birthday, but the event, although a state holiday in Illinois, will have minimal response in other areas. The only school that will conduct regular classes Wednesday is St. Elizabeth, Johnson and Pontoon Roads.

All state offices, including the Illinois Employment Service, the unemployment compensation office and the drivers' license bureau will close for the day. Madison County offices at the courthouse in Edwardsville will close.

Sasyk on Bi-State

Gov. Dan Walker on Tuesday appointed Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison and John E. Shuff Jr., president and publisher of the Belleville News-Democrat, as members of the Missouri-Illinois Bi-State Development Agency board.

Sasyk, 53, is serving his second term. Previously, for 19 years, he was chairman of the Madison Board of Police Commissioners.

The lifelong Madison resident is a self-employed land developer and a member of the Madison-Venice Rotary Club and Madison Lions Club. He also has been active in the Amvets.

Sasyk and his wife, Winifred, are the parents of three children.

Shuff, 34, who has been president and publisher of the Belleville newspaper since 1972, was previously vice president of operations for the Oakland Press, Pontiac, Mich. During the late 1960s, he was an executive with Capital Cities Communications, Inc. in New York. Capital owns the News-Democrat.

He holds a bachelor degree in accounting from the University of Notre Dame and is a certified public accountant.

Shuff is chairman of the St. Elizabeth's Hospital Advisory Council in Belleville and chairman of the Southwestern Illinois Committee for Regional Airport Development.

He has served as a member of the financial problems task force of Belleville School District 118.

Shuff and his wife, Margaret, reside in Belleville and are the parents of a son.

Sasyk will serve on Bi-State until 1977, replacing Francis Pouchette, who resigned from the board. Shuff's term ending in 1976 is that of Mrs. Blanche Helwig, who resigned. Members of the Bi-State Development Agency serve without salary.

State bids due Tuesday on Poplar St. bridge repairs

The Illinois Department of Transportation will take bids Feb. 11 for repair work on the Poplar Street bridge approach ramps in East St. Louis.

The department's bridge inspection program it was discovered that some of the expansion bearings were not functioning properly as the bridge structure expanded and contracted and that some damage had occurred to the top of the pier supports and steel girders.

The Department of Transportation has prepared plans for the replacement of 342 of the expansion bearings with elastomeric bearings. This is a rectangular bearing with a hard rubber-type surface which will permit normal movement of structural steel due to temperature variations.

In addition, any cracks in the girder ends and pier caps will be repaired at the same time. Work will proceed as soon as possible with repairs expected to be completed by Nov. 30.

The work will require that portions of the complex be closed to traffic while work is in progress. The replacement and repair work will be scheduled so that a minimum amount of the complex will be closed at any one time.

Each time traffic is to be routed on different roadways, announcements will be made to the news media in the area. Maps will be included.

DOT urges highway studies

The United States Department of Transportation (DOT) has issued a new call for research to combat the nation's major transportation problems, according to John Rodman, coordinator of the Office of Research and Projects at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

Rodman said five priority areas have been listed by DOT: interdisciplinary studies on safety, urban public transportation (mixed systems), intercity transportation (rail and high speed), role of the automobile, and the federal role in transportation development.

"The primary purpose of the DOT Program of University Research is to insure that the resources of the higher education community are brought to bear effectively on national, state and local transportation problems," Rodman said.

The SIUE coordinator said principal investigators must be full-time faculty members whose duties include teaching. "Criteria for consideration of proposals include: the relevance to the solution of important transportation problems, professional merit of the proposed research, and qualifications of the investigator," Rodman said.

The deadline for receipt of proposals is April 1. Further information is available at the Office of Research and Projects, Room 2202, SIUE, General Office Building.

Rea indicted

A Madison County grand jury Thursday returned a two-count indictment against Charles E. Rea, 32, of the 3100 block of Kilarney Drive, on charges of attempted murder and aggravated battery.

Both charges stem from the shooting of Rea's estranged wife, Mrs. Victoria Rea, Collinsville, near Highway 111 and Sand Prairie Lane Dec. 26. Rea is in the county jail in lieu of $50,000 bond.

She since has been released from a hospital and is recuperating from several bullet wounds, including one in her mouth and two to her back. It was reported.

LANGUAGE CENTER AT VENICE HIGH SCHOOL has developed with the aid of federal funding under Title VII and is known in Venice as Project MICRO (Mathematics, Interpersonal Relations, Communications and Reading Opportunities). Standing are Mrs. Dorothy Smith, reading teacher left, and Miss

Language center develops student reading skills

The Language Center at Venice High School which has been developed by the staff of the Title VII Mathematics, Interpersonal Relations, Communications and Reading Opportunities (MICRO) project, was viewed by members of the VHS adult advisory council, including representatives of the student advisory council, following a regular meeting Tuesday.

In the Language Center, the eight station carrels afford some privacy as the students strive to carry out their assignments. These have power panels, lamps, and projection screens. The students enjoy working to improve their reading skills by using the System 80, Dukane Filmstrip-cassette player, the guided readers, the tape recorders and other related materials.

Miss Mary Donna Scaturro is the full-time staff member at the center, but the other reading teachers, Mrs. Dorothy Smith, Mrs. Mary Shaw, and Miss Barbara Bailey, have access to the center also.

Many of their students already have used some of the machines in the other Project MICRO rooms so that greater use may be made of the equipment. The regular classroom teachers have been encouraged to utilize some of the materials in order to supplement their classroom activities.

The officers of the adult advisory council are Mrs. Verla Arnold, chairman, Mrs. Tillie McGarran, secretary, and Mrs. Donna Hoover, assistant secretary. The members are:

The officers of the student advisory council are Michael Logan, chairman, and Sandra Sanders, secretary. The members are: Tami Eck, Jeff Corrie, Carolyn Richmond, Clark Ray, Terri Varner, Leonard Gardner, Andrea Withers, Peggy Pier, Algie Crawford and Sharon Taylor.

News notes

A report at last week's meeting of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council showed that the Council and the Bi-State Development Agency are considering the addition of a new express bus line from Edwardsville through Granite City.

State Sen. Sam Vadalabene last week introduced a bill that would let townships acquire more than 10 acres of land for park use. They now are limited to sites of 10 acres or less.

The Illinois Supreme Court said Thursday a law denying bail to persons accused of murder is unconstitutional; it said the bond question should be left to judges. The court also urged the General Assembly to pass legislation in line with an Illinois Constitution provision guaranteeing criminal defendants a prompt preliminary hearing; a St. Clair County man was held in jail 65 days without such a hearing, it was noted.

Good Fellowship Club of Madison, Albert G. Hudzik, treasurer. The disclosure law requires all persons or groups raising or spending more than $1,000 on political activities to have filed by Jan. 31.

Miss Bowles said several of the groups that have filed were not required to do so, confusion about the requirements of the law has caused some to file in case they later find a position that would have required it. Nonn is seeking re-election as a Granite City alderman from the Fifth Ward.

The Good Fellowship Club of Madison has a similar name to a former Fellowship Club of Madison which was disbanded several years ago after claims that city employees were being forced to give donations to the fund, used for re-election campaigns.

The Good Fellowship Club has been in existence about three years and Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison said contributions to the fund from employees are entirely voluntary.

Hudzik, treasurer of the organization, is the Madison city comptroller. Miss Bowles said nearly every candidate who has filed for the upcoming April elections has filed an economic interest statement that lists income sources, including any possible conflicts of interest between sources of income and political position being sought. Candidates are required to file the economic interest statements when they file their petitions of candidacy.

New negotiators named

A new negotiating committee of St. Louis Levee and Sanitary District board of trustees was appointed during a meeting at East St. Louis Wednesday after one of the members expressed dissatisfaction with progress in negotiation of a new contract with employee members of the East St. Louis Teamsters' Union.

The board agreed to make Ramey Wilson chairman of the committee, with Charles Meyers of East St. Louis and William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice as committee members. The committee had been made up of Ebersold, chairman, and Jack Scoville, board president, and Russell Robinson, Granite City. The change was made after Wilson complained of progress in a meeting with the board.

District officials said a meeting has not yet been held with the East St. Louis Teamsters' representatives and that they were willing to begin negotiations. Negotiations have been held and completed with teamster employees of the Madison

Burned man is charged with arson

St. Louis police bombing and arson squad members yesterday obtained a warrant charging arson against Jimmy Darrell Poe, 25, of 2701 Cayuga St., who is under armed guard at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Poe, first and second degree burned to his face, neck and both hands. Police allege Poe and another man were seen carrying a can at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday into a South St. Louis flat at 3963 Castleman Ave. An explosion occurred a few minutes later and witnesses said they saw one man blown through the doorway of the house into the lawn. The man got up, with his clothing on fire, and ran into a pickup truck where the other man was waiting. It was reported.

The explosion collapsed the east and front walls of the house and caused the roof to collapse into the second floor. No one was at home at the time.

St. Louis police checked area hospitals for a burned man, finding Poe at St. Elizabeth Hospital. They took his clothing to St. Louis where six witnesses alleged it matched the clothing worn by the man who was blown from the flat in the explosion. Poe and members of his family dispute the reports, saying Poe was cleaning paint brushes with thinner in his garage when the fumes exploded and caused a five-gallon can of thinner to ignite.

The South St. Louis building is owned by James Dickson, 40 Overland, and the first floor was occupied by Larry Runyon, 29, a security guard. The upstairs has been reported as vacant. Following the explosion, which was heard throughout the South St. Louis area, firemen rushed to the scene to extinguish the blaze. One fireman, Charles Craft, suffered minor injuries when he fell during the fire. He was treated and released from Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

Five hurt on Nameoki Road

Five members of the family of John Gorrell, 38, of 619 Fleming Place, were injured when Gorrell's car and the motor of Debra June Stasiak, St. Louis, collided at Nameoki Road and Clark Avenue at 9:05 p.m. Wednesday.

Debra Stasiak was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way during a left turn. Gorrell was treated for abrasions to his forehead and Mrs. Phyllis Gorrell, 38, suffered an abrasion to her nose. John Gorrell Jr., 12, had a cut to his right knee which required sutures and Leann Gorrell, 6, was treated for a contusion to her right leg. X-rays were taken and all were released.

Ted Leslie Gorrell, 7, was also examined for minor injuries and released.

LOOT MOBILE HOME

Six guns, a television and cash, all worth a total of about $675, were stolen from the mobile home of Douglas Parker, 1324 Slough Road, Mitchell, it was reported at 4:40 p.m. Wednesday. A chain on the rear door was broken to gain entry.

Miss Debbie Gilmore, Jim Thompson are wed

Sacred Heart Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Debbie Gilmore, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gilmore, 1503 Kirkpatrick Homes, and Jim Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson, 7 Butternut Lane, Edwardsville, on Jan. 24.

The Rev. Daniel Flynn performed the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening before an altar adorned with arrangements of red carnations, mums and white snapdragons. Cascades of white stephanotis marked the pews.

Nuptial selections included "Wedding Song," "Follow Me" and "Sunrise, Sunset."

Miss Cindy Evans registered guests at a reception held in the Croatian Hall, Madison, following the ceremony.

For her wedding, the bride chose a full length gown fashioned with a Chantilly lace bodice, long puff sleeves and a high neckline.

Her bell shaped skirt was accented with scallop lace panels and terminated in a detachable chapel train.

She wore a lace bordered mantilla veil and carried a cascade of roses, pom poms, daisies and mums with trailing ivy.

Miss Debbie Baker, maid of honor, chose a long halter style gown of red velvet worn with a long sleeve jacket trimmed in Venice lace.

A white velvet ribbon in her hair secured a nuptial veil of red netting, adorned with tiny red hearts, and she held a sweetheart bouquet of roses, carnations and pom poms festooned with red velvet ribbons.

The bridesmaids, Miss Carol Gilmore, Miss Pat Gilmore and Miss Judy Thompson, sisters of the bride and groom, appeared in identical gowns.

They wore white velvet ribbon headpieces, accented with red hearts, and each carried a white fur muff with a red floral corsage attached.

The flower girl, Dawn Boone, was dressed in a red velvet frock made with long puff sleeves. White lace trimmed the neckline and sleeves, and a white velvet sash encircling the waist tied in a bow at the back.

She held a miniature bouquet of white carnations tied with red and pink velvet ribbons.

The groom chose Robert Krause as his best man, Dennis Gilmore, a brother of the bride, and Tom and Tim Burns as groomsmen.

Escorting the guests to their seats were the bride's brothers, John Barr, cousins of the bride, and Mrs. Gilmore, mother of the bride, selected an off-white polyester dress and coat ensemble. A gold sequin trim traced the oval neckline of the dress and edged the jacket collar and sleeves. She wore a wristlet corsage of yellow carnations.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Thompson, was attired in long dress of hot pink jersey with a beaded trim on the Empire bodice and long sleeves. Her full length sleeveless coat was enhanced with the jewel trim, and her wrist corsage was made up of red carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, parents of the groom, entertained the bridal party at a rehearsal dinner in their home.

After a wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks in Missouri, the newlyweds are now residing in Granite City.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Granite City High School South. Her husband was graduated in 1971 from South High School and is now employed as a technician at the Civic Memorial Airport, Alton, Ill.

Future Secretaries hear panel program at Madison High School

A panel discussion with local mayors and business people participating highlighted the first monthly meeting of the Future Secretaries Association (FSA) held at Madison High School.

Serving as panel members were Madison Mayor Mike Savick, Venice Mayor William "Mike" Ebersoldt, Larry Sidener of Sidener Supply and Dorothy Shabo of the First National Bank in Madison.

Principal topics discussed by the panel focused upon the appropriate style of clothing to be worn on the job, punctuality at work, and mastering the required skills.

Students sought information concerning reasons for job advancement, requirements in applying for specific positions and methods an employer may use to obtain information about a prospective employee.

Twila Edmonds, a member of the Tri Cities Chapter, National Secretaries Association, and treasurer of the NSA's Illinois Division, served as panel moderator. She was introduced by Donna Miller, program chairman.

Also present were 34 FSA chapter members, their faculty advisors, Mrs. Beverly Inning and Lee Ashby, and Peggy Moore of Metal Service Co.

Deborah Bailey, president, conducted the business session. Members were appointed to serve on specific committees to plan activities and a point system was devised. Each member may earn points for meeting attendance, wearing the FSA pin and participating in workshops, seminars and fund raising projects.

The group agreed to bestow the title of "Miss Madison FSA" on the member who accumulates the most points through the school year. The honoree also will receive a cash award.

Miss Bailey announced "Secretaries Week" will be observed, beginning April 20. Arrangements are being made for senior girls to spend a day working at the First Union, Inc. and First National Bank, both in St. Louis. The "day at the office" program was tentatively set for April 21.

The first FSA seminar to be held in Illinois is scheduled on March 8, with a $4.50 registration fee required from those planning to attend, members were advised.

Working secretaries will serve as panelists for a program at the Madison FSA's next meeting on Feb. 19.

team in the state, defeating the Vikings 90-55 at Venice.

After a slow start, the Devils impressed the crowd with their offensive power and romped to a decisive victory.

Venice dominated the boards to recover 49 missed shots, 24 belonging to St. Paul, and also committed the fewest turnovers, 6-16. St. Paul retrieved 18 rebounds.

Venice committed the fewest fouls, 11-20.

From the field, the Red Devils outshot the Vikings 39-22, and hit on 12 foul shots to the visitors' 11.

Venice led 17-12, 39-23 and 64-38 at the quarters, and outscored St. Paul 26-17 in the final period.

Disbelief was reflected in the faces of Venice fans as the Red Devils failed to control the tempo of play in the first quarter. Venice meshed eight of 19 attempts from the field during the period.

Four straight turnovers resulted in Viking baskets and three fouls were called against high-scoring Mike Henry.

A hometown fan was heard to remark, "If we don't settle down and play ball, we're going to be upset by St. Paul."

Coach Richard Essington's Devils played like a new ball club in the second quarter, pouring in 22 points.

Ballhandler Jeff Corrie intentionally slowed the pace. With Henry forced to play cautiously, Venice went outside only to Reggie Gardner.

Corrie's playmaking was a thing of beauty as he drove down the middle lane, occasionally going for layups but mainly passing off to Gardner while in mid-air, pulling Viking guards with him.

Gardner earned 10 of his game total of 23 points in that period as a result of the strategy.

Corrie, a 5-10 senior, also aided his team's effort by tallying seven points, and forcing three of St. Paul's four second-period turnovers.

The Devils jumped to a 45-29 lead early in the third period after forcing four enemy turnovers, and before long had a 25-point lead.

James Turner relieved Gardner as the outside scorer and scored four straight baskets late in the third quarter.

The Devils stretched their lead further in the last quarter, hitting on 11 of 21 shots from the field and making good four of five charity tosses. St. Paul was eight of 19 from the field and one of four from the foul line in that period.

Corrie matched Gardner's 23 points in the contest.

Scoring also were: Henry 17, Turner 15, Larrik Arnold four, and Mike Logan, James Crowder, Algie Crawford and Mike Walker, two each.

The victory was Venice's 18th in a row for an 18-1 overall record, the Devils having lost only to Madison in the season opener.

Grigsby and Roxana take to the court at 6:15 p.m. today to decide third place in the tournament.

GCHS South enters the meet with a 19-1 dual-meet record and a South Holiday Tournament championship to its credit.

GCHS South and Belleville West are the probable chief contenders.

In regular season competition with other conference teams, South has defeated Edwardsville 39-13, Alton 47-6, Belleville East 25-18, Collinsville 41-9, Cahokia 31-4 and East St. Louis 50-4.

The Warriors' tentative lineup (with dual-meet records indicated) are: 98 pounds — Jim Caschetta 20-1; 106 — Woody Hallbrook 24-0; 112 — Steve Garland 21-3; 119 — Kevin Page 25-0; 126 — Jim Carmody 9-7; 132 — Glen Moore 7-5; 138 — Don Hasty 14-4; 145 — Brian Gaines 8-1; 155 — Steve Avevian 12-1; 167 — Brian Wilson 24-0; 185 — Jerry Paterson 16-1; 220 — Mark Naglich 11-15.

Schmitt Day planners seek former wrestlers

Tickets are being made available in advance to former members of GCHS wrestling squads prior to the tickets going on sale to the general public.

Bob Patrick, ticket chairman, said this week.

Former Warrior wrestlers may obtain information on tickets by contacting Bob Patrick at the Granite City Press-Record, 978-2000; John L. "Jerry" McDonald at Granite City Trust & Savings Bank; Emerald Dunes at Belleville Barber Shop, 3232 N. Main; or committee members, Tom Skubish, Betty Forshee, Don Mega, Donna Hasty, Walt Whitaker, Irvin C. State Jr. and Valerie Evenden.

South High lettermen edge North faculty in overtime

The Granite City High School South Letterman Club defeated Granite City High School North's faculty basketball team, 6-4 in overtime last night at GCHS South for the championship of a donkey cage tournament.

Tom Boyd scored the winning field goal.

South's lettermen advanced to the title game with a 10-8 first-round win over the North lettermen.

North's faculty squad advanced to the title contest by downing South's faculty squad, 16-8. John Modrusic of South North's faculty, who scored four points in the faculty game.

The competition originally had been scheduled for just one quarter of play between faculty members of both high schools, but the then revised to include both faculty and lettermen in tournament play.

Asks visitors limit calls

Dr. Harold Toussaint, chief of staff at St. Elizabeth Hospital, requests relatives and friends of patients limit the number of visits to those confined at the local hospital because of an outbreak of influenza throughout the area.

Specific restrictions are not being placed on visitors at the present time, Dr. Toussaint said. He suggested, however, that friends should voluntarily limit the times they call at the hospital to reduce the chance of spreading influenza to those already ill.

An excessive number of flu cases has not been evident among persons treated in the emergency room at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

A spokesman at the Granite City Board of Education offices said calls for substitute teachers to replace those ill "is holding its own pretty good right now."

At Granite City High School South, pupil attendance has declined in the past two weeks. "We have quite a bit of absenteeism but certainly not bad enough to indicate an epidemic," an office staff member said.

An unusually high number of scarlatina and measles cases has been reported among the high school students, she commented. Both diseases normally afflict the younger child.

GC hosts Alton, Collinsville for ice competition

The Granite City club of the Madison-St. Clair High School Ice Hockey Association will see action in two scheduled games this weekend at the Wilson Park ice rink.

Granite City squares off against undefeated Alton at 11:45 p.m. tomorrow, and then the local squad will meet Collinsville in a 10 p.m. contest Saturday.

In prior competition, Granite City has lost to Alton four times and defeated Collinsville twice, the latest win an 8-3 decision two weeks ago.

On tap also is a 10:30 p.m. clash tomorrow between Collinsville and Wood River. On Saturday, Edwardsville and Alton meet in an 11:30 p.m. game.

Rites Saturday

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at St. Martin of Tours Catholic Church at Washington Park for Mrs. Josefa Czosnyka, 80, of Washington Park, mother of Mrs. Eva Boyle of Granite City. Mrs. Czosnyka died Tuesday at Memorial Hospital, Belleville. She also is survived by two sons.

Stricken fatally at work

Calvin Nesbit, 61, of 327 Polk St., Belleville, a foreman at Union Electric plant in Venice, became ill at work and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was pronounced dead upon arrival at 10:15 a.m. Wednesday. There will be an inquest.

He was a member of St. Peter's Cathedral in Belleville and was a World War II Air Force veteran.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Gail Nesbit; one son, Timothy Nesbit; two daughters,

Jewish mothers topic of seminar

A discussion of the importance of the mother in the American Jewish consciousness — and the resulting effect on ethnic identity and cultural integrity — will be featured in the University Seminar sponsored by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Jules Zanger, professor of English language and literature, said he will use literary sources to suggest "the profound significance of the Jewish mother as the living symbol of the identity derived from family, tradition, and ethnic community that the son must turn his back upon in order to assimilate into the greater American culture."

Zanger said he will discuss social, economic and religious factors which made the Jewish mother rather than the father the particular symbol of ethnic identity and the causes for shifting visions of the mother from adoration to resentment. "I will attempt to demonstrate from the literary sources the manner in which the necessity to support his family led the father to systematically divest himself both of his ethnic identity and his spiritual function," Zanger said.

The seminar session is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the auditorium of Lovejoy Library. Zanger will be assisted by William Collins of Kirkwood, who has been designated a seminar presidential scholar representing the School of Humanities.

Seminar sessions are open to the public, free of charge. The continuing theme of this year's sessions is "Ethnic Identity and Cultural Integrity."

Custodian ill due to fumes

Alvin R. Wilson, 49, of Hartford, was reported in stable condition by Wood River Township Hospital authorities after being admitted Monday night, suffering from exposure to acetic acid fumes.

A custodian assigned to the SUE Wagner complex, which includes a photographic darkroom used by art students, Wilson was placed under intensive care.

David Huntley, chairman of the art department, said a one-gallon bottle of concentrated acetic acid, used to prepare stop bath for processing of film or photographic paper, was accidentally spilled in the darkroom at 3 p.m. Monday.

Steps were taken immediately to exhaust fumes caused by the accident.

Wilson was taken to Wood River Hospital at 7:10 p.m. by the Edwardsville Fire Department ambulance.

Huntley said several other individuals were in the darkroom at various times following the acid accident and no one else suffered illness.

Hope to simplify vote fund reports

Michael E. Lavelle, chairman of the State Board of Elections, said Wednesday he has directed the board's legislative drafting committee to immediately prepare recommendations to simplify and clarify the filing requirements of the Campaign Financing Act.

"Our experience the past few months revealed there was a great deal of confusion on the part of people trying to deal with the present forms called for by the law," Lavelle said.

"We have received literally hundreds of complaints and most of them involved the forms and the filing aspect of the Act."

"We sent a specially trained staff of State Board of Elections specialists to many parts of the state to hold courses and to make certain not only for and from election authorities and political candidates, but for all these organizations and individuals affected by the disclosure law," he explained.

"One of the findings of the State Board of Elections was that the filing requirements of the Act for those individuals or groups who constitute political committees need clarification," Lavelle added.

"I have ordered our legislative drafting committee to begin work immediately on proposals to simplify the forms and the filing requirements. These proposals will be submitted in the near future to the General Assembly."

A Chicagoan, Lavelle is chairman of the board. Vice chairman is Don W. Adams of Springfield. William L. Harris of Marion and Franklin J. Lunding Jr. of Winnetka are board members.

Adult learning program by county to start in Venice

The Office of Manpower Development, Edwardsville, has created an adult learning program for High School Equivalency (ALPHE) to serve the 10,000 adults in Madison and Bond counties who might be seeking a high school equivalency certificate.

ALPHE will begin sometime during the first week of March with the first class site at the Venice Recreation Center in Venice.

The tuition-free program will provide academic tutoring for adults preparing to take the general education development examination. The GED examination is a test designed to measure an individual's ability to do high school level work.

Upon passing the examination, the adult will be issued a high school equivalency certificate.

The classes, conducted by certified teachers, will be designed to cover the GED testing areas: English, math, social studies, and natural sciences.

ALPHE was made possible through funding in the power office under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act, thus enabling the development and implementation of a community education program.

Adults who are interested in earning the high school equivalency certificate may call the Office of Manpower Development, Edwardsville, 656-4597 for further information.

Budget lists river regulating projects

Rep. Melvin Price, Dem., 23rd Ill. Dist., said the budget that nearly $11 million is contained in the proposed federal budget for the 1975-76 fiscal year for three area public works projects.

The budget released by the White House on Monday includes $8,300,000 for the Kaskaskia Navigation project, $1,400,000 for St. Clair and Madison County interior flood control work, and $3,000,000 for the Mississippi River regulating works program.

"These funds are important to the area's economy, particularly in a time of economic stagnation," Cong. Price said in releasing figures for the projects.

The budget omits the replacement of the Alton locks and dam two miles downstream from the present dam, but includes $55 million to construct two lock-dam projects on the Ohio River.

A temporary injunction was issued Sept. 5 against the replacement in response to a suit by railroads and environmental groups challenging the Congress has fully authorized the work. The suit is to be heard March 3.

Army Secretary Howard H. Callaway has written to the House and Senate public works and appropriations committee seeking "reaffirmation or clarification" of the 1960 Rivers and Harbors Act. Authorization specifically related to the Alton project has been introduced by Cong. Price but not yet acted upon.

The proposed federal budget takes account of a "transition quarter" due to scheduled change from a July-June fiscal year to October-September. Army Engineer Corps estimates for Illinois total $122 million including $56 million for operation and maintenance costs.

Sternberg & Co. construction firm of Granite City and a director of the Southern Illinois Builders Association, while Wilson is a real estate and insurance broker in New Athens and chairman of the Kaskaskia Industrial Development Corp.

Injury suit

James M. Doris has filed suit in Madison County Circuit Court seeking $100,000 from the National Railroad Association of St. Louis.

Doris alleges that on Sept. 12 while working as a track laborer in the railroad's Madison yards, he was injured while attempting to lift railroad ties.

Rev. Ohlin church speaker

The Rev. John V. Ohlin, Springfield, Mo., will be the guest speaker Sunday at 10:00 a.m. at First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue, according to the Rev. C. Dale Edwards, pastor.

Rev. Ohlin is new church evangelism coordinator for the Assemblies of God Division of Home Missions, working with the national director of the division to coordinate the renewed emphasis of the movement in establishing new churches.

An important area of development under Rev. Ohlin's direction is the promotion of funding from which grants may be provided to the various Assemblies of God districts for establishing new churches. He also works with the development of new church financing.

Rev. Ohlin will seek to promote and implement a vocational missions program whereby the laity of the Assemblies of God and students of Assemblies of God colleges may give personal assistance for new church evangelism. This is the concept of the MAPS program Rev. Ohlin developed and coordinated for the worldwide missions program of the denomination prior to accepting the position of new church evangelism representative, according to Rev. Edwards.

MAPS, the Assemblies of God Mobilization and Placement Service, is a program designed to use personnel resources within the church fellowship through vocational or short term Christian service projects for an all-out thrust of evangelism and missions, Rev. Edwards said.

REV. JOHN V. OHLIN

During the six years Rev. Ohlin directed it, MAPS developed vocational programs in several professional areas nationally and internationally. Through the MAPS construction program, he recruited scores of laymen from the United States to give a few weeks of their time to help construct churches in Alaska, the Caribbean, Central and South America, Africa, and islands of the Pacific. In some cases the volunteers also provided funds for the projects.

Rev. Ohlin travels extensively in ministry across the United States while conducting the ministries of new church evangelism. He also has traveled and ministered in many countries of the Western Hemisphere.

Young think for selves and will find enough resources for mankind—Fuller

Students are no longer using their minds for "battering rams" — they are using them for thinking — R. Buckminster Fuller told School of Business alumni of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Tuesday night on the university campus. "If we survive, it's going to be on account of our youth," he said.

When Fuller was a young man, he said his grandfather told him that his grandmother's golden rule — do unto others as you would have them do unto you — didn't hold.

"Grandfather said there wasn't enough of the world's resources to go around," Fuller explained.

"You're going to have to deprive 99 others to get yours. Just do it as gracefully as you can," Fuller's grandfather told him.

Fuller said he felt at that time there might be enough energy and resources for everybody, provided mankind could learn to make the earth's systems work correctly.

"Never mind what you think, I was told. The voice of authority came from the father. He brought home the news. Children weren't allowed to think for themselves in those days," Fuller said.

He pointed out changes in science and technology, communication and in the attitudes of people toward one another, during his lifetime of 80 years. "All the things I had been told couldn't happen have happened," Fuller said.

"Radio brought home the news and daddy didn't bring it home anymore. Daddy was no longer the authority; the news came out of that little black box."

With the invention of television, Fuller said, children started doing their own thinking. People could no longer say, "Never mind."

"The kids weren't a new kind of kid; they were the same ones we had been producing all along. But they were making their own decisions with their own integrity," Fuller said.

"Now all humanity is being educated. We're taking care of more and more people with less and less resources."

"Maybe someday we can prove there are enough resources for everybody," Fuller said.

Fuller, a visiting professor at SIUE, is best known as the originator of the geodesic dome, and as the father of the World Game, which used gaming strategies and scenarios to attempt a simulated rational redistribution of the world's resources and energy.

Today, more than 100,000 of his geodesic dome-shaped buildings have been built throughout the world, including one at the site of the South Pole.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

to aid the Granite City Housing Authority with maintenance work on Kirkpatrick Homes.

That assurance was given Don Partney, County Board member of District 21, who told the council that he and David Morgan, housing authority director, has discussed the possibility of using some of the city workers for maintenance work after those workers complete the present repainting and renovation program at City Hall.

Partney said he did not know if it would be legal for the housing authority to use city workers, but that he would like for the city to check into that possibility. The housing authority, he said, is not eligible for employees furnished by the county under the manpower program.

Mayor Schuler said he also had discussed the matter with Morgan and that "we will check into it further."

On a motion by Alderman Sam Whitmer, the council referred to the Finance Committee a study of the salary of the city street superintendent for a recommendation as to a raise for the beginning of a new term.

Granite City will elect a street commissioner this spring. Salaries may be changed only at the beginning of a four-year term. The city street superintendent now receives $13,000 a year.

That in the event the assessment is increased, as it would be under a multiplier, the tax rate would decrease accordingly as long as the tax level of the agency remains the same.

This means, they explained, that the same tax bill would result as long as there was no increase in the tax level. There may be some moderate tax increase in instances where a tax agency's rate has reached its maximum and is not producing as much revenue as originally levied. An increase in valuation would permit additional tax revenue in such cases, they concluded.

Woman reports assault by man

A 20-year-old woman told police at 10:55 a.m. Wednesday that a man in his late 20s forced his way into her home in the 2200 block of Cleveland Boulevard and assaulted her.

She said she answered a knock at her door and when she saw the man, she attempted to slam the door shut. The man forced the door open and grabbed her throat from behind her, she related.

The man assaulted her and kept repeating, "Don't scream. I have knife," she related.

South High, Lake bands to perform

The Granite City High School Concert Band will perform at 8 p.m. today in the South High auditorium under the direction of Joseph Owens and Terry Waffler. The public is invited to attend.

A special guest appearance will be made by the Lake Division Elementary Band, directed by Sterling Schoen. Lake Division Band members are fourth, fifth and sixth grade pupils from Emerson, Logan, Lake, McKinley, Marshall, Stalling, Washington, Webster and Wilson schools.

Selections to be presented by the senior musicians will be geared to the tastes of the elementary age student, Owens said.

Large flag taken

Officials of the Disabled American Veterans, 1417 Nineteenth St., reported Wednesday that a large all-weather flag and rope was stolen from the 40-foot flag pole at the DAV Hall.

The thief is believed to have climbed across the roof of the building to reach the pole. Joe Hefferly, service officer, said if the person having stolen the flag will return it, a new flag will be given to him with no questions asked.

GC hospital accepts new insurance rates

St. Elizabeth Hospital has secured liability insurance coverage under a fixed dollar self-retention program with excess coverages for roughly 20 per cent more than the $150,000 premium cost paid last year, Tod Eilerman, executive vice-president, said today.

The new liability insurance policy, obtained through the St. Louis offices of Marsh & McLennan, Inc., insurance brokers, requires the local hospital to be "self insuring" up to a certain amount, the executive officer said.

It is not anticipated that hospital room rates or other charges will be raised due to the higher insurance premium, Eilerman noted.

"This program replaces the one previously provided by Argonaut Insurance Co., and was obtained at a reasonable rate," Eilerman said. "Certainly, it is nowhere close to the $1 million premium figure quoted in its earlier."

Argonaut Co. informed St. Elizabeth Hospital early last month that its comprehensive liability insurance premium in 1975 would total nearly $1 million for the same kind of coverage given in the past. The same firm had insured the local hospital against malpractice suits for seven years and in 1974 had reduced St. Elizabeth's insurance premium from $190,000 in 1973 to $150,000. The $190,000 figure was the top amount ever paid for liability insurance by the hospital.

Hospital authorities speculated that should the Argonaut company's proposed new rate be accepted patient costs would increase an extra $10 a day per bed. Several of the nation's top insurance companies, which specialize in malpractice insurance for hospitals and physicians, are canceling insurance policies due to a sharp increase in lawsuits and jury verdicts involving malpractice claims.

The trend appears to be nationwide and is affecting doctors and hospitals whose malpractice claims are virtually negligible. St. Elizabeth Hospital last paid out on a malpractice suit about 10 or 11 years ago in the amount of $60,000, Eilerman said earlier.

Other divisions are helping GC Steel make slabs while blast furnace down

Efforts to return one of the two large blast furnaces at Granite City Steel to operation began today after repairs which followed an explosion Jan. 24 caused by the rupture of water cooling pipes in the hearth area of the furnace. No one was injured in the explosion.

Howard M. Love, president, said emergency assistance from other divisions of National Steel Corp. will enable Granite City Steel to meet delivery commitments to its customers despite production dislocations caused by the blast furnace outage.

Granite City Steel, largest steel producer in the St. Louis area, supplies flat rolled steel products to hundreds of manufacturing companies in the Midwest, South and Southwest.

Substantial shipments of steel slabs, a semi-finished form of steel, from other National Steel divisions have enabled Granite City to maintain rolling and finishing production which would otherwise have been cut back while the company's "B" blast furnace was down for repairs, Love noted.

Valuations may rise—but most tax rates would fall

Property assessments upon which tax billings are based in the Quad-City area and the rest of Madison County may be increased by a state "multiplying factor" if a Lake County Circuit Court ruling is upheld in the appellate court, local and county tax officials reported this week. But some published reports of the impact are inaccurate.

The extent of valuation increases cannot be determined at this time.

The multiplier furnished by the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs would depend upon computation of real estate sales values against assessment ratios based on valuations fixed by Madison County Assessing officials, according to James Barton, superintendent of assessments in Madison County.

The multiplier now is "one." Officials agree that an increase in assessments resulting from a multiplying factor would not necessarily mean a substantial increase in taxes, since the multiplier is applied only to property valuations — not to the tax billings.

The court ruling which may affect current assessment figures was given by Circuit Judge Harry Strouse in a case involving equalization of tax rates.

The ruling enjoins the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs from issuing any final multiplier that puts county assessments at less than 42 per cent of fair market value, unless a prior order is obtained in Strouse's court.

Judge Strouse emphasized that "it is obvious there are real inequities" in the assessment structure throughout the state.

The multiplier is a figure the state assigns to counties to try to equalize assessments statewide.

It is computed by comparison of county assessments with recent sales studies by the state to determine the actual cash value in different counties.

A multiplier of 1.0, which Madison County has enjoyed in recent years, is the same as no multiplier at all.

Barton said his office at Edwardsville was notified early this week by Frank A. Kirk, director of the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs, that the Lake County ruling will be appealed.

The appellate court will be asked to set "an expedited hearing in order to attain prompt adjudication of this case so that tax billing processes not be unreasonably delayed," Barton added.

Madison County assessments still are being adjusted by the Board of Review. It does not expect to complete its hearings until the latter part of March.

The board is running several months behind its regular schedule this year because of errors in computer computations made for Madison County by an Ohio firm, it was explained.

Barton said errors in application of homestead exemptions in the computer tapes will require re-examination by the county of 143,000 property assessments to determine the proper assignment of the homestead exemptions. This means that Madison County's abstract of assessments will not go to the state until early April.

Reports in East St. Louis that a multiplier would be applied against tax billings rather than against property assessments, resulting in "staggering increases" in tax bills are not true. Later radio reports mirrored the inaccuracy. They have created apprehension among some taxpayers who have heard the reports, finance officials told the Press-Record.

Paul Rutledge, city treasurer of Granite City, said computations contained in an East St. Louis newspaper report

Streamlined decision-making by Higher Education Board proposed

A bill to lessen the heavy and complex burden of decision-making on the Illinois Board of Higher Education has been introduced by Sen. Sam M. Vadalabene. It would amend Sections 7 and 8 of the Higher Education Act.

"We need to create some new avenues whereby administrative decision-making at our institutions of higher education can be more responsive to immediate needs," Sen. Vadalabene said. "This legislation takes a few small steps in that direction. The burden of decision-making on the Board of Higher Education is extremely heavy. This bill would offer some avenues in which program proposals and expenditure recommendations to the board by particular institutions or systems could be acted on more quickly and easily."

"It would also give individual institutions the chance to move their administrative decision-making with more reasonable speed, while preserving the basic intentions of the Higher Education Act.

"It amends Section 7 and 8 of the Board of Higher Education Act in two ways:

"1. It permits university governing boards to implement new units of instruction, research or public service.

"This could be done without the approval of the Board of Higher Education if, in a regularly scheduled public meeting of the governing board, the educational needs for such new units at the junior college, college or university concerned are considered, and 60 per cent of the voting members approve implementation of the proposals.

"Further, for purposes of this bill, it provides that the Board of Higher Education would have 90 calendar days to act on the proposal.

"This would give the governing board of the individual institution a chance to institute its own decision-making process as provided above.

"2. Prior approval of the BHE for submission of plans involving expenditures of less than $150,000 for capital improvements of non-instructional facilities would not be required.

"This would permit the BHE to focus on important, significant projects without being bogged down with problems such as whether a broken window is to be replaced or a new door is to be hung."

Prepare easements for town sewer

Although only a few forms actually have been prepared for obtaining easements for the Four Township Sanitary Sewer, the Madison County Maps & Plats Department has received numerous addresses to check and supply the legal descriptions required for the easement forms. Walter "Dick" Sparks, supervisor of Chouteau Township, told the township's Board of Auditors at its regular meeting.

Sparks displayed maps showing the properties for which legal descriptions have been requested. He said he has received "very few back."

After the township receives a number of easement forms containing legal descriptions, volunteers will be given the forms and will request the property owners to sign free easements for the sewers.

Sparks emphasized the program does not have enough money to pay for easements and whether the sewer actually becomes a reality will depend upon the cooperation of property owners in granting right-of-way.

The proposed sewers will take waste from parts of Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships to the Granite City sewage treatment facilities. Sparks is chairman of the county's special sewer committee, which is comprised of County Board members from Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships.

The town board also discussed its priorities for spending $12,500 it may receive under the federal Community Development Act.

Venice received top priority under the program to provide ambulance service, drainage improvements in Pontoon Beach were given the second priority and Chouteau Township was third highest on the priority list with plans to construct a $12,000 community center building.

The program must yet be approved by county and federal officials before the money can be received. Allocations in the second and third years of the program are expected to exceed $36,000 per year for Chouteau Township, triple this year's allocation.

This year's formula county-wide is based upon $3.96 per person as established by the 1970 federal census. Subsequent allocations are expected to be based upon a formula of more than $9 per person.

SECOND BURGLARY

A shade taped over a window in the front door at the home of Stanley Jackson, 2902 near Buxton Ave., placed there after a recent burglary, was removed and the house was entered for the second time, it was reported at 2:20 p.m. Monday. Jackson, who is moving, said several boxes were ransacked. All that were known to be missing was a BB rifle and a camera.

STEREO IS TAKEN

A window in a rear bedroom was opened to gain entry to the home of Carl Lisac, 2924 Dale Ave., it was reported at 7:45 p.m. Monday. The living room and a bedroom were ransacked. Taken were a $630 stereo set, including an amplifier, a turntable and two speakers.

Bus route changes considered

Proposed route changes by the Bi-State Transit System, including extension of the Pontoon Express Route, have not been finally approved by the Bi-State Development Agency and will not become effective unless such approval is voted.

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, a member of the Bi-State agency, explained today.

Schuler said some persons apparently misunderstood reports of the proposed changes by the Bi-State agency's Traffic Committee as approved changes that had become effective.

Actually the mayor said, the proposals still must be considered by the agency commissioners.

To explain the status of the route changes at this time, James E. Terry, general manager of the Bi-State Transit System, noted in a letter to Mayor Schuler that route changes will become effective on or about Feb. 10 if recommendations of the Traffic committee are approved by the commissioners.

The letter said: "At the January 1975 meeting of the Transit Operating Committee, Bi-State Transit's management staff is recommending that several route changes be made. One of these recommendations is to extend the route of the Pontoon Express line farther east in the Pontoon Road area to Sara Street, rather than turning on Maryville as is presently done. The cost of this extension will be negligible as we anticipate that there will be increased use made of the route in the new area."

"During the last year, we have made improvements in service on this route because of increasing patronage, adding a morning and afternoon trip on April 15, 1974. Our checks indicate that the route is still growing and we are planning to add an additional trip morning and evening because of the volume. This addition of service is not totally related to the route change although any further increase in patronage would place the ridership at capacity level."

"We have also been requested to extend the route of the McKinley Bridge line via the same route. Our most recent surveys have indicated that there is very little patronage generated in this area on this route in the midday and evening periods. Also, extension of the local route would require additional equipment and present some operational problems, in addition to the fact that it would be much more costly than the extension of the Express. We are, therefore, including this item in our transit development program with the provision that it be considered in light of our experience with the Express extension.

The extension of the Pontoon Express route, if approved, will become effective on or about February 10, 1975.

Office looted

Items worth about $1,000 were stolen from the mobile home office of Strickland Transportation Co., 3005 Edwardsville Road, it was reported at 8:20 a.m. Tuesday.

The east side door was pried open to gain entry.

Taken were an electric typewriter, a manual typewriter, a calculator, a check embosser and a brief case containing personal papers.

JEWELRY IS TAKEN

An undetermined quantity of jewelry was stolen during a burglary at the home of Clara Goelzer, 2218 E. 24th St., it was reported this week. The rear door was pried open. Several drawers were ransacked. It was not known if anything else was stolen.

ACCIDENT VICTIM

Benton Lindsey Sr., 44, of 55 Country Place Lane, was examined and x-rayed at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 1 p.m. Saturday for injuries he sustained in an auto accident at 3:30 p.m. Friday. He was released.

Directory assistance—big workload for Illinois Bell

Calls to Illinois Bell directory assistance operators totaled an all-time high of 319 million in 1974, the telephone company reported this week.

But Tom Rich, Illinois Bell manager in the Quad-Cities, said, "It's a record we wish we'd never break again."

"The total annual cost of providing directory assistance service is about $55 million," he said. "Unfortunately, many of the calls are unnecessary, since they're for numbers already listed in the directory."

"Worse yet, more than half of the calls to directory assistance are placed by only about 10 per cent of our customers."

"If people would look up the numbers they know are in the directory, more of our operators would be free to help callers—who really need it, especially those who are disabled and can't use a directory.

"Of course, directory assistance operators are ready to help any customer who needs a listed number and can't find it. That's why they are there—to offer assistance."

Illinois Bell employs 3,200 operators throughout the state just to provide directory assistance.

That's about 40 per cent of all the company's operators, the rest of whom handle emergency, person-to-person, collect and credit card calls, and provide a variety of other services to callers.

Rich noted that Illinois Bell has had to open at least one directory assistance office each year in 21 of the last 22 years. The company has a total of 41 such centers—12 in Chicago, 15 in the suburbs and 14 in Downstate locations.

Calls from Granite City, for example, to directory assistance are handled in the Belleville directory assistance office.

Office Number 42 in Illinois is scheduled to open in May in south suburban Lansing.

Rich said the telephone company has tried various approaches to meet demands for directory assistance service, including technical innovations to speed the operator's search for numbers, renaming the service from "information," redesigning directories, distributing more than 12 million free directories, annually, and encouraging the use of personal number lists. But, still, call volumes are climbing. They've grown from 447,000 on an average weekday 10 years ago to nearly a million a day last year, he said.

Car license display deadline postponed

Deadline for displaying 1975 Illinois passenger license plates has been extended to midnight Saturday, March 1, Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett has announced.

"Because of unexpected complications and a tremendous load of special number requests, our office hasn't been able to complete processing of all applications," Howlett said. "The two-week extension from the previous Feb. 15 deadline will enable us to wind up processing so that all owners can receive and install their new plates in the legal time," he explained.

All law enforcement agencies

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Feb. 6, 1975 Page 16

in Illinois and all other states will be notified of the extension. License plates will continue to be sold over-the-counter at 361 banks throughout the state; 675 currency exchanges, most of which are located in the Chicago area; three Secretary of State Motor Vehicle Facilities in Chicago; the first floor of the Centennial building in Springfield; and at the two drive-in windows at the new motor vehicle facility on Dirksen Parkway in Springfield.

Grocery profits decline, speaker tells Rotarians

Profits of major grocery chains have dropped from 1 per cent of gross sales to .06 per cent according to Alvin T. Barnes, advertising director of Tri-City Grocery Co. Barnes spoke to the Granite City Rotary Club at its Tuesday noon meeting in the YMCA.

The Tri-City Grocery Co. operates 20 supermarkets, 18 in Illinois and two in Missouri. Locally they have a store in Venice and one in Belleme Village Shopping Center.

Barnes' talk, "Ads Ad Up" included a slide presentation on marketing from Michigan State University.

He noted that people are buying more of the basic groceries than the specialty items.

Barnes pointed out that most food retailers have dropped stamps and have increased the use of coupon redemptions in newspapers.

Two new areas in retail grocery stores that will save the customers money and time are the computer cash registers that now are in use in this area, he said. Universal product numbers will soon be here, a system in which every item has a number. Scanners on the checkout lane will pick up the number and the computers will handle inventory control, reducing the cost of inventory records. The savings can be passed onto the customer. This also will insure stores against running out of any particular item.

Barnes began working over 20 years ago for Tri-City Grocery Co. as a stock boy. In addition to being advertising director, he is also on the firm's board of directors.

Rotarian Walter B. Stauffer announced that the club will hold the sixth annual Chili Day on Tuesday, Feb. 25, at the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue. Rotarians will sell tickets for $1.50 each. Serving will be from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. and from 5 p.m. until 7 p.m. The Rotarians will serve chili, crackers, relish, dessert and beverage.

Thomas Walsh of the Illinois Division of Vocational Rehabilitation will be the guest speaker next Tuesday.

Eagles aid Mobile Meals deliveries

The Fraternal Order of Eagles Monday furnished all three teams of volunteers to deliver Mobile Meals to 29 shutins scattered throughout the Quad-City area.

In addition to supplying the three teams of volunteers the first week of every month, Hubert Henrich, secretary of the Eagles, presented a check for $400 Tuesday to Mrs. Marie Whittle, secretary of Protestant Welfare, who coordinates the weekly volunteers for the Mobile Meals program.

During the past few weeks, the number of shutins receiving these hot meals — prepared by St. Elizabeth Hospital and delivered by 35 church, civic and fraternal groups — has been increasing. According to Jesse Brown, coordinator of the Mobile Meal program, a fourth team of volunteers may be necessary to make deliveries weekly. In this way, the time span from hospital to the individual homes will be shortened.

Shutins or patients returning from the hospital who are unable to prepare their own meals are encouraged to call Catholic Charities at 877-1184 for details of the procedures to follow in becoming eligible for this program.

STEAL KEYS, CAR
The gold 1971 Oldsmobile auto of Turrell Holloway, 2233a Iowa St., was stolen from Niedringhaus Avenue and Maple Street, the owner reported at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. An employee of American Steel Foundries, Holloway said his car keys had been stolen from his locker at work.

Facilities for handicapped recommended

The Illinois Board of Higher Education has recommended $129,000 in additional funds for capital improvements at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The projects would be funded from a $4.1 billion bond issue proposed by Gov. Dan Walker to stimulate economic activity in the state.

The BHE on Tuesday recommended that $101,000 be spent to upgrade facilities in the Communications Building theater, including installation of a new curtain, expansion of the lighting system, re-covering of the 404 seats in the theater and painting of the theater.

Also recommended was a $23,000 proposal to install special facilities for use by handicapped students on campus.

Improvements would include new drinking fountains on the ground floor of campus academic buildings placed so that they can be used by individuals confined to wheelchairs, installation of an additional set of elevator buttons in the Peck, Science and Technology and Communications buildings where classes are held, and in Lovejoy Library, located so that they can be reached easily by wheelchair users.

One automatic door suitable for use by handicapped students in wheelchairs also would be installed at the west entrance to the Peck classroom building.

The Granite City Board of Education voted Tuesday night to make final payments to the contractor and architect of Granite City High School North, but to withhold enough to assure that two problems are corrected.

Tully A. Heubner, director of buildings and grounds for the school district, recommended that L. Wolf Construction Co. be paid $33,262 and that the former partnership of Gabriel & Dulgeroff, architects of the building, be paid $1,519.

The district then would withhold from Wolf $8,250 to assure that a problem with the carpeting in the library is corrected, Heubner explained.

Another $905 is withheld from the architects to assure that the district does not get "stuck" with the bill from an outside specialist the district hired to help suggest methods to resolve previous problems with the gymnasium floor, he added.

Heubner said he did not feel the board should withhold the bulk of the final payments since much of the money is being withheld from the wrong persons.

He said Wolf hired numerous subcontractors for the high school construction and final payments to them from Wolf are being withheld.

"A lot of subcontractors have completed their jobs many months ago: some up to three and one-half years or more. We found nothing wrong with their work and they deserve to be paid," he said.

He said the board's action should make it clear that the withholding from Wolf concerned only the carpet and that subcontractors not involved with that problem should be paid in full.

Citing former problems in which moisture was condensing in the gymnasium ceiling and dripping onto the floor, Heubner said he believes the problem is "basically corrected."

He cited "some minor dead spots in the floor and some pegs which are up above the floor level, but we have been assured that these problems will be corrected."

He said a crack which had developed in a wall of the library has been repaired and he feels no additional problems with the wall will be encountered. "There is no guarantee," he conceded.

Board Member Harold Davis asked if the problems encountered with the portable classrooms "falling apart" have been corrected and he was assured they have been.

School District Attorney William Schooley agreed with Heubner's recommendation and said he felt the $34,781 total should be paid to Wolf and to Gabriel & Dulgeroff. The board concurred unanimously.

Schooley said the final payment has no bearing on a suit filed by Wolf against the district to determine who is responsible for damage caused responsible for damage caused when a beam blew or fell from a high spot, damaging several building tressels which had to be replaced.

The district has brought Hartford Insurance Co., which had the builders' risk insurance policy on the job, into the suit, Schooley said.

Schooley requested and received permission to file a request for a declaratory judgment to determine whether the school district or the insurance company is responsible for the damage, if Wolf is released from liability.

If the court finds the insurance company is responsible, the district can back out of the suit and let Hartford and Wolf continue the court battle to determine who is ultimately responsible, it was explained.

College representative to meet high school girls here

Miss Jane Foster, field representative for Cotter College, Nevada, Mo., will meet with high school girls, their parents and high school counselors who are interested in more information about Cotter College at 2 p.m. Monday at the First Presbyterian Church, 237 North Kansas St., Edwardsville.

Local Quad-City residents who are interested may obtain more information by calling Mrs. Jean Maxwell, a member of Chapter KU, at South High School, 877-1812, extension 68, or contact Mrs. Margaret Pennell of Chapter HT at 877-5537.

Miss Foster's visit here is sponsored by members of the PEO Sisterhood which is a philanthropic educational organization of more than 185,000 women in the United States and Canada. The college has been owned and supported by PEO since 1927.

A 1967 graduate of Cotter College, Miss Foster earned the bachelor and master's degrees at the University of Kansas where she was a member of Delta Delta Delta Sorority. She is a member of Chapter BU, PEO, Kansas, and will represent Cotter College in 15 states.

Cotter College is one of the few remaining two-year, liberal arts colleges for women in the U.S. Founded in 1884, the college's transfer curriculum and general education courses meet the first two-year requirements for most baccalaureate degrees.

According to the college, 90 per cent of the graduates transfer to four-year colleges

A ratio of ten students to one professor allows small classes and encourages a personal learning environment. The college is fully accredited by the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges and is a member of the National Association of Schools of Music.

Cotter's varied extra-curricular program includes cultural and recreational events in the Kansas City, St. Louis area and the Missouri Ozarks. The student body consists of 350 freshmen and sophomores from 40 states, Canada and several foreign countries.

Schools, public libraries to receive Sandburg's Lincoln

As a special tribute to Illinois' favorite son, Abraham Lincoln, the First Granite-City National Bank will present to public and parochial schools and public libraries of the area a customized special printing of Carl Sandburg's three-volume biography of Lincoln.

The Pulitzer prize-winning work is contained in a handsome designed jacket and includes a fully-illustrated Civil War map showing the location of major battles as well as a chronological history of the Civil War.

Also included is an illustrated three-panel folder, featuring an authentic reproduction of Lincoln's handwritten "Gettysburg Address," the story behind the address, the story of five known handwritten manuscripts and some little known facts about Lincoln.

According to David Fox, vice-president of the bank, the American Bankers Association will co-sponsor on NBC Television at 9 p.m. on Wednesday a network production "Sad Figure, Laughing."

In the production Hal Holbrook a winner of Broadway's Tony award, portrays an aspect of Lincoln's personality that both endears him to the public and yet provides ammunition for political criticism.

his rural sense of humor and his penchant for story telling.

Julius Graf dies at 98

Julius Graf, 98, of 2902 E. 24th St., a retired employee of General Steel Industries, died at 9 a.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital. He had been ill two weeks.

A member of Central Baptist Church, Mr. Graf also belonged to the July 60's Club of Grace Baptist Church and the Senior Citizen Clubs at both Anchorage and Kirkpatrick Homes.

Born in Rochester, N. Y., he moved to this area 66 years ago. His wife, Mrs. Mary Dorothy Graf, died Jan. 26, 1966.

He is survived by five children, Mrs. Gladys M. Welker of Reno, Nev., Mrs. Lillian Gregory and Mrs. William (Eleanora) Hobson both of Granite City, Mrs. Cecil (Della) Smallwood of Vienna, Mo., and Orrin Graf of Daytona, Fla.; eight grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren.

Two sons, Lloyd and Irving Graf, preceded him in death. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Car crashes into ditch; two injured

Two men were injured when the southbound auto of Robert Yates, 27, of 67 Kasseberg Lane, Pontoon Beach, drove through the "T" intersection of August and East 23rd streets, crashed through a cyclone fence and into a concrete drainage ditch on the south side of East 23rd Street at 12:15 a.m. Wednesday.

The auto settled in two feet of water at the bottom of the ditch. Granite City firemen had to assist ambulance personnel in removing Yates from the auto because of the water.

The auto damaged 40 feet of the cyclone fence and several fence posts. The fence was owned by Granite City.

Yates was charged with reckless driving and destruction of city property.

He and a passenger in his car, David Cox, 29, of 2013 Grand Ave., were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Yates was x-rayed and treated for an abrasion to his nose and a contusion to his forehead. He declined to be admitted and police took him to the Granite City Jail.

Cox was admitted to the hospital with a hematoma to his forehead and a cut to his lower lip. X-rays were taken.

At 6:35 a.m. Wednesday, police checking jail cells noticed blood from the bridge of Yates' nose and returned him to the hospital. He was examined and was returned to police custody.

Free skating at park Wednesday

A free ice skating session for all residents who hold Granite City Park District identification cards will take place from 12:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Wilson Park rink.

The "Lincoln Holiday" skating special was designated by the Board of Park Commissioners due to response to the first free skating period on New Year's Day. More than 400 skaters took advantage of the initial "special," Harold Brown, park superintendent reported.

Local schools will be closed Wednesday in observance of Lincoln's Birthday.

A reduced admission rate of 25 cents will be charged non-residents and those without park ID cards. Brown said, "Local school rentals will cost 50 cents per person."

I-270 bridge lanes to be re-striped soon

The Illinois Department of Transportation has finished blacktopping of the Interstate 270 bridge that spans the Mississippi River and will re-mark the lanes as soon as the weather permits, Kenneth Keene, assistant district highway engineer, said Wednesday.

A representative of the U.S. Department of Transportation and a state engineer made final inspection of the I-270 improvements yesterday.

Rain and fog conditions sometimes make the temporary markings almost disappear and create a traffic hazard, motorists report.

"If the wet and cold weather ALL THE FISH YOU CAN EAT FRIDAY, $1.69 AT GRANTS does not let up within the next few days, we will put down a temporary reflectorized tape to mark the lanes," Keene said.

Motorcyclist hurt

Brad Fitzhugh, 18, Rural Route One, Granite City, was injured when he attempted to stop his motorcycle for a stop sign on Niedringhaus Avenue at Chestnut Street and the cycle skidded on wet pavement, throwing Fitzhugh to the pavement.

He was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted with multiple injuries, including abrasions to his back, both knees and his right elbow.

One withdrawal in city race

Opposition for the office of Granite City street superintendent in the April 1 city election was reduced to a two-way race this week with the withdrawal of a third candidate who had filed nomination petitions.

Withdrawing Monday afternoon, shortly before the deadline, was Tom Nesbit, 2807 Warren Ave.

As a result, incumbent Street Superintendent Lionel Portelli and Mac Warfield, 22 Devon Hill Lane, will oppose one another for the $13,000 per year post.

There were no withdrawals among candidates seeking park commissioner posts in the Venice Park District and the Granite City Park District.

Five candidates are seeking one park board post in Granite City, where the park election will be held April 15. Four candidates are seeking two park board posts in the Venice district, where the election will be held April 1.

Filing will continue through Monday in Madison, Venice and Pontoon Beach for the April 15 city elections in those communities.

One new filing was reported in Venice where Vernell Jackson, 1213 Douglas St., filed petitions as a candidate for alderman of the Fourth Ward. Jackson was the second candidate to file in that ward.

There is speculation this week about the cozy relationship that has developed between Democratic U.S. Gov. Neil Hartigan and Republican Atty. Gen. William J. Scott. Both are recognized as sharing a deep antipathy toward Gov. Dan Walker.

new St. Louis area airport to serve the bi-state metropolitan region.

A disputed new study concludes that the new airport will be needed by 1995. Others say it will be needed as soon as it can be built. During the past two years, Hartigan has represented Illinois in involved negotiations affecting both Missouri and Illinois and has made many trips to Washington on the airport issue.

It is generally believed at the Capitol that Walker regrets having given Hartigan so important an assignment and one for which he has received considerable publicity.

It is probably politically significant that in his formal statement, Hartigan made only passing mention of Walker while he was almost glowing in his praise of Scott.

Hartigan's only reference to Walker was that "I am now going to recommend to Gov. Walker that it is time to seek real unity and cooperation between Missouri and Illinois on this project specifically."

Gen. Scott and I made in June 1973, in order that the St. Louis region can have an environmentally acceptable airport in the next century."

Further on, Hartigan added that "I shall continue to represent Illinois in this assignment of representing our state in Washington and I shall continue to make sure that the land bank proposal includes the protective safeguard for those who now own the land that Atty. Gen. Scott and I have proposed."

One is the strong streak of independence exhibited by Hartigan through the emphasis on "I". And, secondly, the friendly references to Scott, who still rates as the most likely Republican to oppose Walker.

should Walker be renominated in 1976.

The favorable references to Scott could also be interpreted by political strategists as a thinly-veiled effort by Hartigan to appeal to independent and Republican voters as part of his own bid for the governorship next year.

Hartigan's intent to continue a strong interest in the airport project could also be construed as a maneuver to cut into the widespread name recognition enjoyed in Southern and Southwestern Illinois by State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon, who is regarded beneath the Statehouse Dome as running full blast for the 1976 Democratic nomination for governor.

It is taken for granted now at the Capitol that either Hartigan or Dixon will challenge Walker in next spring's primary.

Rotarians establish Humanitarian award

The E. A. Friedman Humanitarian Award was established by the Madison-Venice Rotary club at its Wednesday noon meeting in the Madison Recreation Center, Seventh and Iowa streets, Madison.

The award has been established to recognize a person from the Madison or Venice area who has made a significant contribution without thought of personal gain, to the general welfare of the people of Madison or Venice.

Rotarian E. Stanley Howlett is chairman of the awards committee.

Recommendations may be made by a resident of either Madison or Venice on behalf or another resident. Specific reasons why the recommendation is being made must accompany the name of the person.

According to Chairman Howlett, Recommendations should be addressed to the Awards Committee, Madison-Venice Rotary Club, P.O. Box 1, Madison, Ill., 62606, no later than Saturday, March 15.

The award will be presented on Thursday April 3 at the M-V Rotary Club's 50th anniversary dinner at the Granite City Army Installation.

Martin Graham, a retired professional scout executive of the St. Louis Boy Scout Council, spoke to the club about the advantages a young man has in the scouting program. February is celebrated nationally as Boy Scout month.

Gunfire near store

Stephen M. Demaree, 18, of Rural Route Two, Box 1155, Granite City, was charged with theft after he allegedly took a $10 bottle of liquor from Smilin' Joe's Liquors, Nameoki Road and St. Clair Avenue, at 7 p.m. Monday.

Joe Postar, owner of the liquor store, said a young man entered, grabbed a bottle of liquor and fled through the front door.

Postar, for the second time in five days, obtained a pistol he has inside the store and fired it. He said two shots were fired as a light colored auto left the store's parking lot. The shots did not strike the car.

A witness gave a description of the auto, including a license number, to police, who notified area departments.

An auto matching the description was stopped a short time later in Madison and two boys and three girls inside the car were brought to the Granite City Police Department for questioning.

Demaree later was charged. Postar fired several shots at another auto following a shoplifting incident at his store Jan. 30. No one was hurt and the thief escaped in a white 1965 Chevrolet. He has not been identified.

Numerous incidents of thefts of bottles from liquor stores have been reported in the Quad-City area during the past 30 days.

The owner of one liquor store has said similar incidents occur at his store on the average of once per week.

Permits for new houses

Permits for four new homes in the Morrison Estates Subdivision, valued at $22,000 each, were among seven permits listing values of $129,000 issued by Madison County during January for Quad-City area townships.

George Arnold is developer for the four new houses which are to be constructed in lots four through seven of the Morrison Estates, an R-4 single family residential district of Nameoki Township.

Also in Nameoki Township, a permit was granted to Lindsay Construction Co. to construct a $9,500 metal warehouse in a B-4 business district near Route 162 and the railroad tracks, east of East 23rd Street.

A permit also was issued to Johnnie B. Brimpage to place a mobile home in the Williams Subdivision, an R-4 single family residential district of Venice Township.

Mary Earls was granted a permit for a mobile home in the Hills Terrace Addition, an R-3 district of Chouteau Township.

Campus arrest

Thomas M. Smith, Edwardsville, was charged with petty theft Tuesday after allegedly being apprehended leaving the Bookstore at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville with four record albums. Charges were filed by the SIUE security office. John Oxford, bookstore manager, who stopped him outside the store, said an R-3 is phasing out its stock of recordings because of previous incidents.

How to get more meat for your meat dollar

Price per portion, not price per pound

No matter what cuts of meat you buy, here's an important rule to follow. It's the price per serving that counts, not the price per pound. If boneless round is $1.49 per pound it's a better buy than short ribs at 38¢ per pound. Because you can get 4 servings out of the boneless round at about 38¢ apiece. Whereas you might only get two servings out of the short ribs at about 49¢ apiece.

Of course the size of a serving really depends on your family's individual needs. But three ounces of cooked lean meat is the most common definition of a serving. And two is a satisfactory amount for small children, or older people with small appetites.

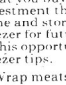

In planning your shopping list, the following guides to portions per pound can help.

Purchase	Yield:
1 lb. boneless, low fat meat such as lean meat cubes or roast	3-4 portions
1 lb. boneless fatty meat	2-4 portions
1 lb. small-bone meat, such as blade roast or chops	2 portions
1/2 to one pound bone-in meat, such as spareribs	1 portion

TIPS FROM THE A&P BUTCHER

Meat you buy at special prices is an investment that pays off when you use some and store the rest in your home freezer for future use. To make the most of this opportunity to save, here are some freezer tips.

1. Wrap meats in single meal, or single portion quantities.
2. Put two sheets of paper between pairs of shaped patties or steaks, so that they can easily be separated while still frozen.
3. Wrap the meat tightly in moisture and vapor-proof paper. Lay the meat in the center of the wrap, bring the long edges together, fold over and over, butcher's style flat against the meat. Fold ends of the wrap over and over to make a tight seal. Tie firmly or seal with freezer tape.
4. Label each package with contents and date of storage. Be sure to use the meat before the recommended storage time is up.
5. Freezer storage times are 6-8 months for beef and poultry, 6-7 months for lamb, 3-4 months for pork and veal, 1-3 months for ground meat and cooked meat and 1 month for sausage.

In Loving Memory of FRED W. GRIFFIN who passed away February 5, 1965

Ten years have passed since you went away, but in our hearts you will always stay. Sadly missed by Wife and Family

PAUL N. ELY, February 8, 1973

"Forever a treasured memory"

Sadly missed by Daughters Ardith and Maxine and Granddaughter Juanita

In Memory of PAUL N. ELY, who passed away February 6, 1974

It has been a very long lonely year since you have been gone. Since God came and took you away.

God forever is the laughter, joy and your tender embrace.

When your children came to visit from a distant place.

How we all long to hear once more.

The sound of your voice as we enter your room.

And your sound advice leading us always for the best.

When life with its difficulties delimated our survey.

You are always with us every moment of each day.

And God willing, we'll be together again, forever we'll stay.

Sadly missed by Daughter, Son-In-Law, Grandsons and Grandchildren

In Loving Memory of LLOYD HENRY HULL who passed away February 8, 1967

Sadly missed by Daughter, Son-In-Law, Grandsons and all who loved him.

Span of 35 years since GC won state basketball title

By JIM FLYNN
Assistant Executive Secretary
Illinois High School Association
It's called "March madness."

It may be the most contagious ailment in Illinois since the common cold.

It strikes everywhere — from Chicago to Cairo, from Galena to Paris — some time during the third month of the year.

It is accompanied by tears — of joy and sorrow — and a distinct increase in the heartbeat. It is not fatal, and yet everyone who catches it is infected for life.

Since 1908, when Peoria High School beat Rock Island 48-29 at the Oak Park YMCA Gym in the first state basketball tournament, Illinois — in the vanguard of the times — is "up for grabs" until a new state champion is decided. The title was won by Granite City in 1940.

The late Lewis Omer, then athletic director at Oak Park High School, originated the idea of the state tournament.

Thirteen teams were invited to the initial meet. The next year, following Omer's suggestion, the infant Illinois High School Athletic Association took over the venture.

It has emerged as one of the most widely publicized and competitive state prep tournament series in the nation.

The 1909 tournament was held in the Bloomington YMCA Gym. Two years later, Bradley University was the site for the state tournament, and Rockford High School belted Mt. Carroll 60-15 for the championship.

Rockford's 60-point effort would be a title game record for the next 34 years.

For several years, the tournament was alternated between Bradley in Peoria and Millikin University in Decatur.

In 1918, Springfield High School's gym was site of the tournament — the only time it has been held in a high school facility — and the famed Arthur L. Trout guided his Centralia Orphans to win their first title.

At the same time, Sports Editor Fred "Brick" Young of the Bloomington Pantagraph officiated in his first of a record 12 consecutive state tournaments.

Finally, in 1919, the state tournament found a home in Champaign on the campus of the University of Illinois.

The first seven tournaments played on the home court of the "Fighting Illini" were in the Old Gym Annex. When Huff Gym was opened in 1928, the emotional appeal — as well as the demand for tickets — of the tournament mushroomed.

Since 1965, the University's concrete "flying saucer" — the Assembly Hall, with a seating capacity of 16,128 — has been the site of the state tournament.

Changes in playing format of the tournament have generally spawned increased fan interest and availability of tickets since the first "sweet sixteen" in 1934.

In 1936, the series of competition was established to include tournament play at the district, regional, sectional and "sweet sixteen" levels.

The first seven tournaments played on the home court of the "Fighting Illini" were in the Old Gym Annex. When Huff Gym was opened in 1928, the emotional appeal — as well as the demand for tickets — of the tournament mushroomed.

schools with enrollments of 750 or less) trophy.

These awards range among the most highly-sought schoolboy trophies in the nation.

Members of the first "sweet sixteen" field included champion Quincy, runnerup Thornton (Harvey), third-place Equality, fourth-place Moline, Champaign, Urbana, Streator, Peoria (High), Springfield, Lawrenceville, Marion, Freeport, Charleston, Centralia, Chicago (Marshall) and Chicago (Lane Tech).

The 16-team field for the last single-class competition included: champion Thorndike, runnerup Oak Lawn, third-place Danville, fourth-place Springfield (Lanphier), Benton, Rockford (Boylan), Quincy (Catholic Boys), Granite City, Chicago (Harlan), Kewanee, Elgin (Larkin), Nashville, Winnetka (New Trier East), Paris, Normal (University High) and Peoria (Woodliff).

First state champion crowned in Champaign was Rockford, coached by Frank Winters. His team bounced Springfield, 39-20.

First champion in Huff Gym was Coach Glenn Holmes' Freeport Pretzels, who edged Canton 24-13.

First champion in the Assembly Hall was Chicago Carver, as Coach Larry Hawkins' Challengers, who took second the year before, beat Centralia 53-52 on a fantastic shot from the corner at the horn by tiny guard Anthony Smalley.

Only district champion to win the title, after smaller schools were placed into district competition in 1938, was the famous 1952 Hebron team, that boasted the tall and talented Judson twins, Phil and Paul, along with 6-7½ center Bill Schulz.

Hebron, a school with an enrollment of only 99, outscored Quincy by a 6-1 margin in overtime to take the championship, 64-59.

Other district teams to reach the final game were Braidwood in 1938 and the gigantic Cobden Appleknockers of 1964. Cobden, with a lineup that included the 6-foot brothers (Chuck and Jim) and the equally big Smith cousins (Ken and Jim), lost to the Dave Golden-led Pekin Chicks, 50-45.

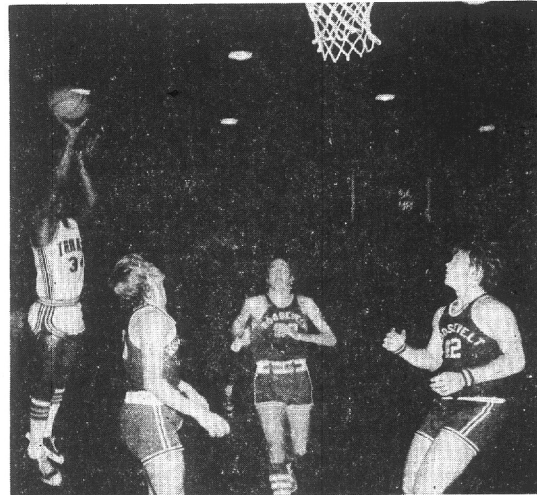

Perhaps the greatest game ever in state tournament history was the 1945 quarter-final match between Decatur and Galesburg. The Runnin' Reds finally captured a 73-72 overtime victory, but only after the score was tied or the lead changed hands an incredible 33 — count 'em — 33 times.

One of the most devastating performances by a team in a single game has to be Thorndike's 35-point (104-69) victory over Quincy in the first Class AA title game in 1972.

That victory for the Boy Battis-Quinn Buckner spearheaded Falcons was No. 54 in the school's 58-game state record winning streak.

Among the most memorable individual performances were those by Granite City's Andy Phillip in 1940; Dwight "Duke" Edelman's single-handed victory for Centralia in 1942; Max Hooper's incredible total of 57 points in back-to-back title games to give Mt. Vernon the 1949 and '50 championships.

Also, George Wilson's smooth-as-silk play at center for Chicago Marshall in 1956, and again in 1959; Collinsville's Bogie Redmon in the Kahoks' 32-0 season that concluded with an 84-50 win over Thornton (Harvey) in 1961; and the all-time tournament scoring performance of 6-9 David Robisch of Springfield in 1967.

Redmond a congenial rather than forceful House speaker

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau
A 36-year-old strong speaker in the Illinois House apparently has come to an end. Few beneath the Statehouse dome expect Democrat William A. Redmond, Bensenville attorney — compromise choice for House speaker in the new 79th Illinois General Assembly — to wield the power and exercise the influence of his seven predecessors, starting with the late Paul Powell in 1949.

The legendary Powell served three terms as speaker, once winning the post with Republican help in defiance of his own party leadership, and once utilizing an inter-party Chicago alliance to hold the speakership although Republicans elected a majority in the House.

When Powell was speaker he was ranked almost equal to the governor and the mayor of Chicago as among the three most important figures in Illinois public affairs.

No one expects that of Redmond. Nor is it likely he will match the long tenure of four terms served as speaker by Republican Warren Wood of Plainfield.

A strict taskmaster, Wood guided the House through a succession of comparatively orderly and productive sessions during the administration of Gov. William C. Stratton.

Speakers who served through the 1960s — Republicans John W. Lewis, Ralph T. Smith and Jack E. Walker, plus Democrat John Touhy of Chicago, now state Democrat chairman — were recognized as forceful leaders who used fully the built-in powers of the office. The late Smith was a native Granite Cityan.

The era of strong speakers reached its climax in 1971-73 with selection of Republican W. Robert Blair of Park Forest. But in retrospect, it appears that Blair was too strong.

His independent wheeling and dealing, often in cooperation with Democratic floor leader Clyde Choate, triggered a reaction among House members that was translated this year into a revolt against any would-be strong leader.

Had Blair not been defeated for re-election in his home district in November, he would undoubtedly have been rejected as future floor leader of his party. The revolt crushed Choate's ambitions for speaker.

To write that Redmond is not expected to be a strong leader is not to demean him. Nor is it to imply that he won't be a good speaker. He may well be, for the potential is there.

Redmond may, in fact, be an ideal man for speaker at this time. He could be a unifying force, in what is clearly a divided, bitter, feuding body, some believe.

Not only must Redmond contend with the various factions within his own party in the House, but he must also serve as conciliator between the two rival powers in Democratic politics, Gov. Dan Walker and Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

One advantage may be that the desirability of Redmond as a compromise choice for speaker is one of the few public issues on which Walker and Daley have been in agreement. Redmond is going to need some help from Republicans, too.

Although Democrats control the House by the substantial margin of 101 to 76, it will often prove difficult to line up the 89 votes needed to pass a bill in the House.

If Redmond is to become an effective speaker under these unique circumstances, he will have to make maximum use of his recognized assets. These include being well liked by the membership and respected by most of it.

He has an ability to control his temper and a pleasant personality, traits lacking in Blair.

Girl, 16, beaten

Miss Lou Ann Dolby, 16, of 1649 Olive St., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 6:15 p.m. Saturday with her upper front teeth broken and abrasions and contusions to her chin.

She alleged a man held her against her will for a period in a home in the 2400 block of Dewey Avenue and then beat her. Police brought the girl from the house.

AUTO BURGLARY

Three boxes of mechanic tools were stolen from a station wagon owned by Bert Judy, 2139a State St., it was reported Friday. The vehicle was parked in front of his home. Entry was gained by forcing open a left wing window. Also taken was a small suitcase of clothing and pills for a heart ailment, according to the report.

Timetable for service benefits

The Veterans Administration has advised veterans recently separated from military service to keep current with important federal and state opportunities and obligations as part of their transition.

Officials noted that in the press of returning to civilian status, veterans sometimes overlook matters which could affect their well-being.

To insure a smoother transition after discharge, VA suggests the following timetable:

As soon as possible, register with local state employment service office. (Veterans have up to one year to apply for unemployment compensation, but applications filed after a long period of unemployment could result in a lower rate of unemployment compensation.)

In 10 days, report address to Selective Service through local board (in person or mail.) In 30 days, register with Selective Service or any local board, if not already registered.

Within 90 days, apply to former employer for re-employment.

Up to 120 days (up to one year if totally disabled at separation from service) convert Servicemen's Group Life Insurance to low cost five-year Veterans Group Life Insurance.

Within one year from date of notice of VA rating on disability, apply to VA for GI life insurance based on service-connected disability.

10 years of separation from military service. VA noted there are no time limits for veterans to:

Apply to the agency for a GI loan guaranty to buy, build, or improve a home.

File claim with VA for compensation for service-connected disabilities or disease, or apply for hospital care.

Seek assistance from local state employment offices in finding work or entering Labor Department job-training programs.

There are 72 veterans assistance centers around the country to help veterans get a fresh start in civilian life, VA said.

Early tax returns urged

Looking for a tax refund? The Internal Revenue Service is ready and willing to get your tax refund, if you have one coming, in your hands as quickly as possible.

"All we need to help taxpayers get their refund quickly is for individuals to file their returns as soon as possible," Ira S. Loeb, district director for Central and Southern Illinois, said.

"Refund returns received now can be processed and the refund mailed to the taxpayers in four to five weeks. Taxpayers who wait until the April 15 deadline to file will have to wait up to eight weeks for their refund check to arrive."

"Another advantage of filing early," Loeb points out, "is that this would help assure prompt processing and issuance of any income tax rebates that may be enacted by Congress."

Last year 794,874 taxpayers in Central and Southern Illinois received refunds. The Internal Revenue Service returned $276,148,222 in refunds to Central and Southern Illinois taxpayers.

RADIO IS STOLEN
A $279 citizens' band radio was stolen from the auto of Theodore Goldberg, 1306 Johnson Road, parked at 21st and State streets, it was reported last week.

MRS. WILLIAM STUART MILLS, the former Miss Cynthia K. Todoroff, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Todoroff Jr., 3127 Colgate Place, was married at Holy Trinity Bulgarian Eastern Orthodox Church in Madison.

Assignments for Ladies In Action

Committee assignments were decided at last week's meeting of the Ladies In Action at Briarcliff Pentecostal Church. Mrs. Dorothy Dickerson gave the opening prayer, and Mrs. Christine Semtzer, president, announced the committee appointments for the coming year.

Those named, include: Mrs. Maggie Metcalf and Mrs. Dorothy Smith, funeral directors; Mrs. Betty Bonilla and Mrs. Dickerson, nursing homes; Mrs. Wanda Watson, Mrs. Debbie Singleton and Mrs. Karen Maddox, ways and means; Mrs. Norma Fenoglio, Mrs. Lillian Barton and Mrs. Helen Canada, approval; Mrs. Phyllis Allen, Mrs. Opal Orrell and Mrs. Ann Holson, nominations; and Mrs. Maggie Glasgow and Mrs. Fenoglio, telephone.

It was agreed to grant all members 65 years and over the status of honorary members and exempt them from paying dues while retaining all other privileges of the organization. A review of the current bylaws was proposed and food items to be served at various dinners were discussed. Mrs. Smith closed the meeting with prayer.

Cynthia K. Todoroff wed in afternoon ceremony

Miss Cynthia K. Todoroff, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Todoroff Jr., 3127 Colgate Place, became the bride of William Stuart Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Mills of Collinsville on Dec. 22 at Holy Trinity Bulgarian Eastern Orthodox Church in Madison. Metropolitan Joseph of New York, assisted by the Rev. Peter Stamboldjiev, performed the double ring ceremony at 4 p.m. White mums, red carnations, ferns, pine and greenery adorned the altar and the pews were decorated with white satin bows.

Miss Todoroff was escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father.

She chose a full length gown of ivory chantilly lace, made in a princess silhouette, over a white peau de soie skirt. Satin ribbon edged in guipure lace fashioned the mandarin neckline and banded the wrists of the long fitted sleeves.

The ribbon-lace trim, accented with tiny satin buttons, detailed the front of her gown and the skirt terminated in a full length train of chantilly lace, scalloped at the edges. An ivory satin and lace cap, designed and made by the bride, secured her triple tier veil of ivory illusion, outlined with lace scallops. Her flowers were bridal pink roses, white snowflake mums and baby's breath arranged in a cascade with white satin streamers and greenery.

The maid of honor was Miss Elaine Todoroff, a sister of the bride. Miss Cathy Beck, Miss Connie Beck, Miss Rosie Jean Blane and Miss Kristina Christich, all cousins of the bride, served as bridesmaids.

The attendants selected formal length halter dresses in deep wine colored, quiana worn with long sleeve hooded jackets trimmed in matching marabou. They carried white fur muffs accented with sprigs of holly and mistletoe and deep wine colored streamers.

The groom chose Jack Farrow as his best man. Larry Dew, James Eftimoff, Phil Mehelic and Jeff Mills, brother of the groom, were groomsmen. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Todoroff chose a long gown of pink chiffon made with a v-neckline, molded bodice and long, full sleeves deeply cuffed and trimmed in gold metallic threads. The groom's mother, Mrs. Mills, chose a deep beige chiffon frock, formal length, complemented with an elbow length tapered cape of matching chiffon. Both mothers wore white baby cymbidium orchids.

Traditional orthodox music was furnished by the church choir with Miss Elaine Eftimoff, a cousin of the bride, presiding at the organ. Assisting at the altar was Anthony Eftimoff, also a cousin. Special guests escorted and seated by James Eftimoff, another cousin, were Mrs. Elizabeth Mills, the groom's grandmother from Covington, Ky., and Mr. and Mrs. John Haase, the bride's godparents from Belleville.

Miss Linda Blane, the bride's cousin, presented each guest at the church with the traditional almond candy, wrapped in ivory illusion and tied with deep wine satin ribbon.

The bridegroom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at Riedel's Restaurant, Edwardsville, and a reception and buffet dinner were held immediately after the wedding at Holy Trinity Hall in Madison. An evening of dancing followed.

A graduate of Granite City High School and Illinois State University at Normal, the bride presently is a teacher at Maryville and Mitchell elementary schools.

Her husband was graduated from Hartford City (Ind.) High School. He received his bachelor's degree from McKendree College, Lebanon, and his master's degree from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He is employed as supervisor of Special Education Region 1, which includes Granite City, Madison and Venice.

Out-of-town guests included Robert Mills, Covington, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Heffner and Mr. and Mrs. John Coggins, all of Cincinnati, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lehmann and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Lehmann from Danville, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Farrow, Summersville, Mo.; and Phil Mehelic from Manhattan, Kan.

Refresher course for medical technicians

An emergency medical technician course will be offered periodically from March to June at the St. Elizabeth Hospital trauma center in Granite City.

The course is being provided by Belleville Area College and the St. Elizabeth Hospital trauma center in cooperation with the Illinois Department of Emergency Medical Services and Highway Safety.

The course will be available to nationally or state certified emergency medical technicians (EMTs) who completed their initial training over two years ago.

The course will be given in three complete sessions, each consisting of seven 3-hour class meetings. The only charges are a fee of $5 to offset the cost of material used by the student, and a fee of $5 for those who do not have a text.

The refresher course is recommended by the U.S. Department of Transportation and the Illinois Department of Public Health. It is also a prerequisite for continued certification for certified EMT's by the National Registry of Emergency Medical Technicians.

Classes will be held on week-day evenings from 6:30 to 9:30.

Louis A. Reibeling, Ph.D., director of public and personal services, Belleville Area College, and Steve Missey, emergency medical services coordinator for the Division of Emergency Medical Services, are co-instructors for the course.

With Missey serving as instructor, lesson plans and text book will be those developed by The American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons for emergency care and transportation of the sick and injured.

Applicants must appear in person at the trauma coordinator's office at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Granite City, to enroll in the program. Applicants should bring their state and national registry certification cards and required fees. At time of enrollment, reading and study assignments from the text will be given for the first class.

On Feb. 13 and 14, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., persons may enroll in the course meeting on March 3, 5, 10, 12, 17, 19 and 24. On March 13 and 14, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., persons may enroll in the course meeting on April 7, 9, 14, 16, 21, 23 and 28. On April 17 and 18, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., persons may enroll in the course meeting on May 7, 12, 14, 19, 21, 23 and June 4.

Refresher programs at other area trauma centers will begin in the near future. Their locations and coordinators are: Wood River Township Hospital—Robert Miller; Belleville Memorial Hospital, Belleville—John Santoro; St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis—Robert Nash. EMT's will be accepted at any location regardless of where initial training was received.

For further information interested persons may contact Steve Missey, 576-2020, ext. 411.

Man named on five charges

Carl Harkey, 30, of 4041 Rode Ave., was arrested near his home at 8:10 p.m. Sunday and five charges were filed against him after an alleged scuffle with four police officers.

A police officer and an off-duty police dispatcher said they were talking in the 4000 block of Rode Avenue when a man approached carrying a garbage can lid and began to beat on a tailgate of the squad car with it.

The officer said he told the man to stop, after which the man was reported to have yelled a profanity at him and displayed a knife. The officer said he drew his gun and told the man to stop.

The man scuffled with the four officers until he was subdued, authorities said.

Police took him to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was said to have refused treatment and kicked one policeman in a shin. Harkey is charged with aggravated assault, aggravated battery, destruction of city property, unlawful use of a weapon and resisting a peace officer.

Following the law is key to a successful adoption

You would like to adopt a child?

If so, you'll be interested to know that despite recent publicity concerning the refusal of a natural mother to regain her child, an adoption is as final as any legal matter can be.

The Illinois State Bar Association makes it clear in its free pamphlet, "Adoption: A Family Matter of Legal Importance", that if the law is followed there is almost no way that adoptive parents can be deprived of their child.

Commenting on the recent case in which an Illinois court found the natural mother's consent to adoption had been fraudulently obtained, the bar group said:

Among other things, the laws concerning adoption are properly adhered to.

In its pamphlet, which can be obtained by writing to the ISBA, Illinois Bar Center, Springfield, Ill. 62701, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope, the after the birth of the child.

And under all ordinary circumstances, once a child has been made legally available for adoption, the consent is irrevocable.

"Would-be adoptive parents who fear that their rights to a child might later be successfully challenged by the natural parent or parents can put their minds at ease," the ISBA says.

Because of the importance of following the law to the letter, persons interested in adoption should consult an attorney as one of their first steps, the ISBA adds.

The lawyer will advise them of the procedures to be followed, provide the names of licensed adoption agencies, prepare the necessary legal papers and represent the adoptive parents in court proceedings.

In its pamphlet, which can be obtained by writing to the ISBA, Illinois Bar Center, Springfield, Ill. 62701, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope, the

Three honor courses at SIUE

The School of Humanities at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer three honors courses during the spring quarter for outstanding students who want to extend their knowledge of the humanities beyond regularly covered areas.

All honors courses are seminars. The format includes reading, discussion and research. Requirements for enrollment in the honors seminars are sophomore standing, a 4.0 cumulative average or dean's list status for the last two quarters.

The honors courses to be offered during the spring quarter are: Radicals and Prophecy, Eroticism in Western Art and Literature, and The Reintegration of Man's Fragmented Psyche Through Love.

Radicals and Prophecy is an examination of patterns in the vision of the future developed by radicals in the United States, Britain and France during the past 300 years. Plato, Grotius, Machiavelli, Hegel, Skinner, Bulloch, Brinton, Toynebee, Dostoyevski, and Reich will be included in the studies.

Eroticism in Western Art and Literature will examine the relationship between eros and art from ancient to modern times. Artists and writers to be studied include Picasso, Dali, Yves Klein, De Sade, Lawrence, Petronius, Harris, Casanova, Ovid, Bosch, Giotto, Luther and St. Augustine. Works such as The Story of O, Fanny Hill, The Pearl, Kama Sutra, and Joy of Sex, will be discussed.

The Reintegration of Man's Fragmented Psyche Through Love is an analysis of the ways in which love informs and shapes perceptions of cosmic order from ancient to modern western literature. Included for discussion are works by Plat, Apuleius, Chaucer, Bunyan, Williams and C. S. Lewis.

62 seminars during summer

The National Endowment for the Humanities has announced its intention to offer 62 seminars for college teachers in the summer of 1975 at institutions in 26 states throughout the nation, according to the Office of Research and Projects at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

John Rodman, coordinator of the SIUE office, said he has been informed that grants totaling $2.6 million will be distributed under the program.

Rodman said the purpose of the programs is to provide college teachers with opportunities to work with distinguished scholars in their fields at major universities during the summer. Applicants will receive individual stipends of $2,000 for a two-month period between June and August. A small housing and travel allowance also will be available.

Each seminar will enroll 12 college teachers. "Participants will be selected by seminar directors on the basis of their quality and commitment as college teachers," their qualifications to do the work of the seminar and make a contribution to it, and the conception, definition, and organization of their proposed work.

Often, once consent has been obtained after passage of the 72-hour period, adoptive parents will receive the child directly from the hospital nursery.

Also, adoptive parents must begin the adoption proceedings within 30 days after the child is available to them for adoption.

Normally, an adoption agency requires that the child live with the adoptive parents for a short time before the child is formally available for adoption. If the child fails to develop normally or if the parents have any second thoughts about the adoption, it can be cancelled.

Wreck stolen car

The auto of John Perdue, 31, Miel Drive, Arlington Heights, was found wrecked after an accident at 14th Street and Washington Avenue at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Perdue called police a short time later and reported he had left his keys in his car in the 2400 block of Grand Avenue and the auto had been stolen.

The keys were still in the car when police recovered it, they reported.

SOME UP SOME DOWN

We hear most about the autos and housing industries that are down. But others are up because of inflationary pressures, and the desire to do more "at home."

Send orders for vegetables are up 85% in 1974 over 1973.

Ball Corporation's canning jar and lid business is up 35% over last year, and estimate 1975 is plus 50%.

True Value Hardware Stores report do-it-yourself improvement tools and supplies are 25% ahead of last year, and projected at plus 20% for 1975.

People are still remodeling kitchens, tiling ceilings, and paneling recreation rooms.

Movie theatre attendance is up.

Notice the trend? It's more "at home" and more "family entertainment." That's where plans lie too.

by Mickey Spillane.

It was around eleven. The bar was still. The quiet heat of summer hung like a cloud over the place. I had ordered another Lite Beer. It was then that I realized two things.

First, a great-looking blonde who raised the temperature of the place about ten degrees had walked in. And second, this new Lite Beer wasn't filling me up the way regular beer does.

As I watched Miss Pretty Face from the corner of my eye, I read the label of the bottle. And suddenly all the pieces of the puzzle fit together. It was less filling because it had less carbohydrates and one-third less calories than their regular beer. And it tasted great.

All kinds of thoughts were running through my head. America had a great-tasting beer that was less filling. I wanted another Lite Beer. I didn't feel filled up. And a guy who looked suspiciously like Miss Pretty Face's husband took a seat next to her.

Well—you can't win them all.

New Lite Beer from Miller. It's everything you always wanted in a beer and less.

Special graduate award Production resumes at Smith plant

The Graduate School of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is seeking applicants for a number of special graduate awards available for students of high academic ability, according to J. Robert Russo, associate dean.

The awards provide a tax-free stipend of $275 to $300 per month and a remission of tuition for the academic year.

"The intent of these awards is to recognize and encourage students who have shown outstanding potential as revealed through past academic records, letters of recommendation, and other evidences of outstanding achievement," Russo said.

The associate dean said the Graduate School anticipates that the awards will aid in the identification and motivation of outstanding students from other universities as well as SIUE.

Last year, the school gave 20 special graduate awards, to students in art, education, biology, business administration, counselor education, economics, English, history, music, nursing, psychology, sociology and speech pathology.

Applicants for the awards must have a 4.3 overall undergraduate average (A equals 5.0) and be prepared to initiate or continue graduate studies on a full-time basis, Russo said.

The Graduate School is urging interested individuals to secure and complete applications promptly. Applicants also must be admitted to the specific graduate program in which they wish to study.

The deadline for receipt of all necessary application materials is March 7. Successful applicants will be informed by April 4.

Additional information and applications are available at the Graduate School office, Room 2202, SIUE General Office Building.

Production resumes at Smith plant

The A. O. Smith Corp. Granite City plant ended its one-week shutdown Monday.

A company spokesman said operations were resumed on Monday at the same level as when the shutdown started on Jan. 27.

The one-week layoff of all personnel was ordered due to curtailments and reduced shipping requirements at customer assembly plants for which A. O. Smith manufactures auto frames.

Approximately 850 plant and office workers currently are employed at the Granite City plant.

About 250 employees have been on indefinite layoff status since late 1974.

Arrest woman

Josephine Tidwell, 26, of 3205 Kilmer Drive, was arrested near her home Sunday and charged with unlawful possession of a counterfeit prescription blank.

Police said a woman tried to use a forged prescription to obtain second at Gasen Drug Store in the Nameoki Village Shopping Center at 4:20 p.m. Sunday. She left rapidly when the pharmacist said he would have to check with the doctor since the signature did not seem to be his.

Five minutes later, police were told that two men attempted to use a forged prescription to obtain drugs at the same store in the Nameoki Village Shopping Center. The prescription blank was from the same doctor as the one used at the Gasen store, it was reported.

The men, both in their late 20s, left when the pharmacist began to make a telephone call.

Decisions before retirement

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Home Economics Adviser
If you're about to enter the golden years—retirement—you'll find the entry much more pleasant if you make three decisions before you retire.

First, decide how you want to spend your time. Then decide where you want to live, and finally, decide whether you will change your type of housing.

Retirement can mean many things. It may mean an opportunity to stop work, to cut down on activities, to rest. Or, it may mean time to travel, to develop a hobby, to start a second career.

You may have a job where you can make the transition from the workday world to retirement in easy stages. As you taper off on the number of hours you work, you can increase the time you spend on other activities.

You can experiment with things you are interested in and find out what hobbies and activities are available to you in retirement.

If you don't want to retire, how about starting a second career? With a retirement income to fall back on, you can take a fling at something different.

Or maybe you can fill some of your time with a part-time job. Perhaps you can continue what you've always done for fewer hours each week, or try something all new.

Whether to stay in your present community or move to a new one is a big decision. The adventure of moving may have strong appeal, but consider all aspects before you make a move.

Moving is expensive, and it may be difficult to return for visits with friends and family. The best way to be reasonable is to try it out. You'll want to know about the weather during the entire year.

Also, you'll want to know something about the people already living there. Consider retiring for a year before you make commitments to move.

Retirees can choose from a wide range of housing alternatives. Will you want to live in an apartment, a house, or a hotel? And what about either an apartment or house in a retirement community?

You may also have to decide what you'll do with the house. Will you sell it and reinvest in another place? Or will you sell and reinvest the money in something else?

Whether or not you choose a retirement community probably depends on whether you prefer living with others your own age or "mingling" with young people.

Remember, your housing choice doesn't have to be permanent. If you enjoy yard and garden work, choose a house with grounds. Later you can sell and change to an apartment or hotel.

At any rate, retiring is always more pleasant if you've made plans for what you'll do, where you'll live, and what type of housing you'll live in.

13 women eligible for State Police Academy

By MARY LOU MANNING
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

Josephine the plumber, get ready. You may soon have to contend with Tillie the trooper.

Thirteen women are still eligible to attend the up-and-coming Illinois State Police Academy. If they do attend, and complete the 22-week course, they will become Illinois' first women troopers.

"We have no female troopers at the present time," explained Lt. Jim Murphy, personnel chief for the state police. "However, we are confident that there will be some female members of the next cadet class."

"The question is, 'How many start and how many will finish the training?'"

"The State Police Merit Board is in charge of determining the exact date of the course, but we expect it will be in March," he said.

The board is also in charge of identifying those applicants meeting all of the eligibility requirements, including physical condition.

Classes are held when the number of vacancies and the number of qualified persons makes it feasible to do so.

At present, excluding those troopers assigned to the toll road, the authorized strength of the state police force is 1,600. Actual strength numbers 1,542.

Murphy stressed the fact that no more applications are being accepted for the next class. However, by the end of February, interested persons could apply for the following one.

About 2,600 applications were received for the March class. However, the list dwindled because of failure to meet eligibility requirements, lack of interest, and changes in personal situations.

"The portion who start and finish the training course, however, is about 90-95 percent," said the lieutenant. "By the time they get that far, we have only the ones who are serious about becoming state troopers."

The female candidates who attend the class will reside at the Illinois State Police Academy in Springfield. Most weekends, the cadets are allowed to return home.

Females who reach the trooper status, which pays $358 per month, will find themselves titled in the same fashion as their male counterparts.

"We are now in the process of modifying the existing uniform to meet the needs of the female trooper," he said. "For example, the waistline will have to be tailored to fit them."

However, the style, color, outward accessories—including the stetson—of male state policeman will be retained for the females.

One problem is foreseen. Just like the present state policeman, the distaff side will have to cope with the regulation forbidding that their hair touch their shoulders.

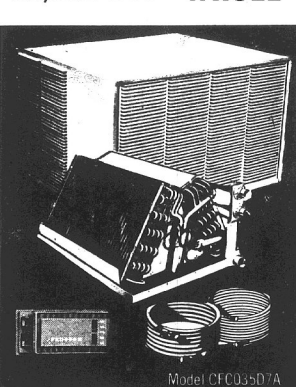

A few states, notably New York and Pennsylvania, already employ state "policepersons."

Cub Scout 'Theme Fair' April 19

The Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America, made plans last week for the annual "Cub Scout Theme Fair" at a meeting held in the Council Service Center, 1335a Niedringhaus Ave.

The fair will take place April 19 from 2 to 4 p.m. A location has yet to be selected, Mrs. Vee Throne, Scouters Reserve chairman, announced.

Mrs. Throne, who was in charge of the planning session, said the event enables all registered scouts to inspect the 12 monthly themes for the coming year. Various ceremonies, craftwork and games will be displayed and literature will be distributed to units concerning programming.

Scouts working on a unit leader's progress card are required to attend the fair to receive a den leader's award, Mrs. Throne explained.

Among the Cub Scout packs from the Uniway District, which encompasses the Quad-Cities, whose leaders have registered themes for the fair, are:

booth, assisted by Mrs. Nadene Taylor.

Three Cub Scout units will participate in the fair from the Kickapoo District and four units from the Illini District, Mrs. Throne advised.

Commission reviews history of state office building here

Excerpts from the Illinois Legislative Investigative Commission report to the General Assembly, January 1975, pursuant to House Resolution 733:

On Dec. 17, 1973, a lease was executed between Three Square Construction Corp. of Granite City and Roland Burris, director of General Services, for the use of the Department of Labor, Bureau of Employment Security.

This lease is for use of a 5,000-square-foot, one-story building and parking lot at 1820 Cleveland, Granite City. Payments of $1,667 a month for 84 months began in April 1974.

On Jan. 11, 1971, Carl Freedman, manager of the Bureau of Employment Security in Granite City, requested the Real Estate Division of the Illinois Department of General Services to lease the building.

The Bureau had long outgrown the building where it had been housed since 1961.

New office space is not easily come by in Granite City.

Darrell Sites, who became the manager in November 1972, placed several blind advertisements in newspapers to no avail.

Some of his proposals for new offices were rejected by the Chicago office of the Regional Manpower Administration of the U. S. Department of Labor, which totally funds the Illinois Bureau of Employment Security, for being too large or too expensive.

Two years later, the Bureau was housed in temporary quarters, with no prospects in sight for new office space.

On Aug. 30, 1973, Sites received a proposal from Eugene Johnson, owner of the Downtown Contracting Co. in Granite City, to construct a building at 1740 Cleveland; the lease would extend for seven years.

Sites submitted the proposal to the Regional Manpower Administration, which approved it on Oct. 1, 1973.

The Department of General Services Real Estate Division sent Sites a lease for signature.

On Nov. 8, 1973, Sites requested a change in the lease to Three Square; owner Eugene Johnson in the process of incorporating the building.

On Dec. 7, 1973, Sites requested the address be changed to 1820 Cleveland. Philip Theis, a Granite City lawyer, now owned Three Square. Johnson was to be the contractor, though later replaced by the Ed Moore Construction Co.

On Dec. 17, 1973, the lease was signed by Kenneth W. Hollis, director of the Department of Labor, and Burris.

Questioned by State Rep. Horace Calvo about the property, a vacant lot owned by First Granite City Savings and Loan, President Fred R. Williams signed a suggestion for the purchase of Jan. 21, 1974, no individual had executed a contract of purchase, lease or an option to purchase.

Williams and Vice President David G. Knollman had made an oral commitment to sell their property at 1820 Cleveland to Philip Theis before Jan. 21. Ten days after the affidavit, the property was sold.

Methods by which Theis assumed ownership of Three Square, acquired loans from First Granite City Savings, replaced Johnson and retained Moore were all legitimate.

The facts that Theis does legal work for First Granite City Savings, is a next-door neighbor of Knollman and had his home built by the Moore Construction Co. describe the realities of a small town.

Henry Bletsch, leasing manager for the Real Estate Division of the Department of General Services, said a lease must be negotiated before construction if you expect to get a contract. Most contractors are unable to obtain financing without a lease in hand.

The lease contained an important exclusionary clause in the event that construction was not completed within a defined period and within his department's budget.

Milton Greenstein, former manager of Real Estate and Procurement, said signing of a lease prior to construction and ownership of property was normal procedure.

Walton E. Russell, deputy director, Department of General Services, said it is common practice for both the state of Illinois and for a private real estate agency to sign a lease prior to a facility being constructed, to become effective upon the start of construction.

Sites and his Bureau have now been in their new offices since late April 1974. We last reviewed Sites on Sept. 25, 1974.

His main feeling was that the finding of a suitable building for the state contractor should have been handled more directly by the Real Estate Division of the Department of General Services.

The Department of General Services said the manner in which the lease was executed was perfectly regular.

The Bureau had been located at 2000 South Main Street in Granite City since 1961. From the time those offices afforded gradually became too cramped for its expanding operations.

Sites said he was well satisfied with his new offices.

Firing of weapon on Nameoki Road is too dangerous

The Press-Record reported Monday that four shots were fired from the vicinity of a liquor store at Nameoki Road and St. Clair Avenue, nearly striking an auto, after a half-gallon of whiskey.

Today's issue tells of a later occurrence involving the same store. Two shots were fired after a young man stole a $10 bottle of liquor.

Shoplifting is reprehensible but not the same category of crime as armed robberies in which the lives of store personnel and customers are menaced. Besides, it is quite possible to confuse one car for another on busy thoroughfares.

An immediate crackdown by law enforcement authorities against unjustified gunfire appears necessary.

However well intentioned, discharge of deadly weapons must be halted in the vicinity of Nameoki Road and the tens of thousands of innocent persons who travel on it each day.

Safety study needed at truck crossing near Madison

The tragic decapitation of two motorists in a collision early this week recalls previous fatalities at the same location, including a similar decapitation.

Big transport trucks leaving a truck stop and restaurant near Madison must cross Route 203 northbound lanes if they need to reach the southbound lanes to regain access to Interstate 70.

Such trucks often must halt for southbound vehicles, pausing in the highway median, which is unable to accommodate the trucks' entire length.

Such a tractor-trailer presents an unilluminated side view to northbound drivers, who may believe the truck is moving forward, or may fail to see it at all under certain lighting and traffic conditions.

"There aren't enough lights in the area," an ambulance driver commented after the latest auto-truck collision there. "A driver going toward Madison is in the crossover before he knows it."

The subject deserves prompt attention by highway safety officials. The highway south of McCambridge Avenue has taken a savage toll of lives for too long a period; the present status must not be continued.

Unmatched and unmatchable service as county clerk

The standing ovation accorded Miss Eulalia Hotz, retired Madison County clerk, by a dinner gathering of 650 was an eloquent testimonial to her 32 years of service in that elective office and to her total of 48 years as county clerk, staff member and deputy county clerk.

The long tradition of effective dedication to "the office closest to the people" began during the county clerk tenures of her father, Joseph Hotz, and then her brother, Norbert Hotz.

First woman ever elected to a county office here, she calmly and efficiently handled a mind-boggling list of duties that for many years included the county clerical duties now vested in the circuit court clerk.

The diverse responsibilities of the county clerk have included serving as clerk of the County Board, voter registration officer, payroll-claims officer, chief election official, tax extension officer, authorized agent of the retirement system for county officials and employees, and keeper of birth, adoption, wedding and death records.

A past leader of state and national associations of county officials, Miss Hotz also has been frequently honored by appointments to state election law commissions and state audit advisory boards. She has played an active role in many volunteer health and welfare organizations despite her busy schedule.

It was fitting that the banquet honoring her attracted a wide cross-section of the public she has served so long, including the individual for whom she tallied and canvassed so many overwhelming election victories, Congressman Melvin Price. She won a lot of landslide votes herself, the most direct way that citizens could and did show their appreciation for her warm friendliness and unparalleled competence.

An Illinoisian as the next United States attorney general?

It seems likely. Without a dissenting vote, the Senate Judiciary Committee this week approved the nomination of Dr. Edward Hirsch Levi, 63.

President of the University of Chicago, he formerly was dean of its Law School. He was nominated by President Gerald Ford to succeed William B. Saxbe in the Cabinet post; Saxbe became ambassador to India on Monday.

Aided by the Press-Record's far-flung correspondents, we'll try to "profile" the light, balding legal expert who wore a bow tie but otherwise was somberly dressed at the Judiciary Committee hearings.

An anti-trust specialist, he is regarded as performing well enough before the committee to assure its approval for the nation's chief prosecutor. Earlier, it had seemed that many senators might try to block him.

If his manner at the hearings had been as capricious in a word, it would be "cautious."

Dr. Levi frequently clarified questions and sorted out ambiguities. He sought to be precise without committing himself prematurely to any set course of action a senator might seem to be espousing.

Always he assured his questioners that he wanted to cooperate with Congress and its appropriate committees in giving the U. S. even-handed enforcement of the law.

His deliberate manner probably convinced the well, that he is not a man to be stampeded or to rise to bait. In view of his purported liberal background, it was expected that conservatives would give him the roughest time. But to a man they rallied to him.

Sen. Roman L. Hruska (Neb.), ranking Republican on the Judiciary Committee, reported that he opposed the nomination. "That's not true," he told Dr. Levi. "I did make inquiries into your record."

Sen. Strom Thurmond, South Carolina Republican, told him his nomination was "disturbed." "But the more I investigate, the better you look," the senator added.

Liberals questioned Dr. Levi closely on issues dear to them — gun control, the death penalty, "bugging," spying and truth-busting. But all committee members appeared to be relatively well-disposed toward the attorney-general designate.

He said at the hearing that governmental surveillance "is required" in certain circumstances. "The topic has moved to 'center stage' as a result of disclosures of domestic activities by the Central Intelligence Agency and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Dr. Levi approved of surveillance for detection of crime or where there is probable cause to believe that a crime is likely.

He also favored it for collection of information involving appointments to government and in "matters relating to very delicate foreign security matters."

Surveillance and wiretapping, he said, should be approved only at a high official level and then after detailed discussion. Freedom repeatedly by the senators, he conceded that judicial approval also should be obtained.

He said "general guidelines" need to be worked out in the controversial field by the Justice Department in consultation with Congress.

"I hope such guidelines can give assurance to the public, and put to rest the notion that the U. S. is in the hands of a few."

He also said that "the U. S. generally being watched," he commented.

He said that in 1940s he was probably a Democrat, but later at the university he had to "defend" himself against charges by a Wisconsin lawyer, who obtained court approval.

"Dr. Levi said the fact that the U. S. is being watched is regarded as the fatal flaw. It was a mistake, a violation of the privacy of jury deliberations. It hasn't been done since at all."

He also told the committee that "partisan politics" should never enter into Justice Department operations, and pledged "even-handedness" in applying the law. "I will call it as I see them."

Dr. Frederika Blankner, owner of Constitution House in Hyde Park, said she was "astonished" at the acquisition for south campus has led to litigation, submitted a statement castigating him for his roles in campus expansion.

Mel Tonasket, president, National Congress of American Indians, complained that the Interior and Justice Departments have failed to resolve the conflicts of interest over land and water rights of Indian tribes. He appealed to Dr. Levi to find a way to separate the interests and protect tribal rights.

Liberty Lobby of the far right and the U. S. Labor Party, he left contended that Vice President Nelson Rockefeller was behind the Levi nomination. To them, this does not bode well.

E. Stanley Rittenhouse, Liberty Lobby executive aide, said "try to be Rocky's team, you must be loyal to Rocky, but all too often that flies in the face of being loyal to America."

The U. S. Labor Party, he called the remark "vicious" and declared he knows "no one more loyal to America than the President and Vice President of the U. S."

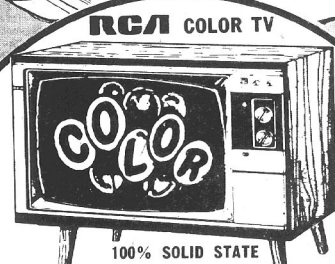

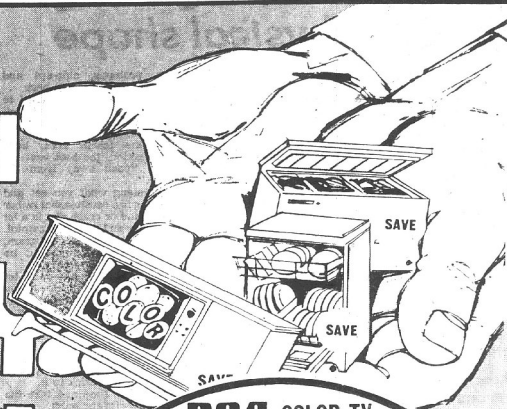

The two Illinois senators testified for Dr. Levi. Sen. Dick Durbin said it "a superb selection.

Goal of fitness—getting into trim physical shape

By MICHAEL THARP
Program Director
Tri-City Area YMCA
(Last of four articles)

How does an individual get in shape? There are a number of factors to take into consideration.

First and foremost, there must be a decision. The individual must make up his mind and commit himself.

The rest is easy, once the first step is taken.

Basically, there are two areas of fitness—organic and dynamic.

The first, organic, refers to the individual's health. Therefore, the next step after a decision is made is to see a physician to determine limits and make sure everything is functioning properly.

Social security queries answered

Many hundreds of questions are posed to the Social Security Administration concerning available benefits. A sample of the types of inquiries made are as follows:

Q. My sister is one of those people who is shy about sticking up for her rights. I think she should take disability benefits—she hasn't been able to work for months and is not getting any better. But she says she doesn't want anything and is not entitled to. She won't be 62 for several years, but she plans to wait for retirement benefits. What can I say to her to get her to look into disability benefits now?

A. Assume her that it is the Social Security Administration, not she, who decides if she qualifies. It is to be expected that some applicants will be turned down. Determining entitlement based on disability should be recognized as a difficult, technical decision which is best put in the hands of people who do it right along on a formal basis for thousands of individuals each year.

Q. I worked in a factory from 1942 until 1953 and have not worked since that time. Someone told me I would lose those credits even though I paid into social security during that time. Is this correct?

A. No, you never lose credit for any work you have under social security. Since you have more than 10 years of work under social security, you would be eligible for at least a minimum benefit on your own work record at retirement age. You have built up protection for any eligible children in the event of your death, and there would be a death benefit payable as well.

The second type of fitness, dynamic, refers to physical conditioning.

Dynamic fitness is broken down into four parts. First is cardiovascular endurance—that is, how much work the heart and circulatory system can do.

This is probably the most important area.

Second is muscular strength and endurance—how strong is the individual?

Third is flexibility—how well the body bends and twists. This is particularly important in the lower back, where a lot of people experience problems.

Fourth is body composition—that is, how fat is the individual? This area is important as far as the heart and circulatory system are concerned and also is important to most people cosmetically.

In order to build dynamic fitness, muscles must be worked.

In the first area, cardiovascular endurance, activities such as walking, running, jogging, swimming and cycling are the ideal exercises.

In the second area, muscular strength and endurance, sit-ups, push-ups, chin-ups and other calisthenics are best.

In the third area, related to flexibility, toe touches, trunk twistings and other stretching exercises are good.

In the fourth area, body composition, the best exercise is to "push away from the table."

Watching what you eat and sticking to a sensible diet rather than a fad or crash diet is a lot healthier and a lot less painful.

With any exercise program, special attention should be given to starting slowly.

An individual can do a lot more harm to himself by overestimating his ability or by trying to get "in shape" in a week.

The best course of action—once the decision has been made, and a physician has been seen—is to start slowly and gradually and stick to it.

Make the time and take the time to build the habit.

The biggest stumbling block comes when an individual shows some initial progress and feels good, and then decides to "skip the workout for today."

Once the habit has been set, don't break it.

COAT IS STOLEN
A $200 woman's leather coat was stolen by a shoplifter in the Edison Avenue, Monday. A clerk said two youths entered the store and one requested help near one side of the store. The other youth then took the coat from a hanger and fled. The first youth fled seconds later. Granite City police searched the downtown area, but were unable to locate the two.

provement construction in our state.

"The state of Illinois will be making a good return of interest on its deposits, and also will be helping the wage earner to build or improve his or her home."

Lambda Chi elects Granite Cityan

Dale Miller of Granite City, a junior student at the University of Illinois, majoring in engineering, has been elected as ritualist of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity, Illinois Chapter, according to William J. Prebil, vice-president of the fraternity.

A 1972 graduate of Granite City High School, Miller is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Miller, 1714 Garfield Ave.

The Illinois chapter was installed in 1928 as the 19th chapter in this fraternity system. Lambda Chi Alpha now maintains more than 175 chapters at the leading colleges and universities throughout the United States and Canada, with more than 126,000 members.

Veterans urged to update policies

It's a good idea to check periodically the type of pay-off plan for a beneficiary, the Veterans Administration has advised veterans holding government life insurance policies.

"All too often," VA officials stressed, "widows of GI policyholders have been penalized following deaths of husbands who had selected small monthly payments over 36 month periods."

In some cases, veterans chose smaller payments for life more than 25 years ago, and never updated their policies, officials noted.

Veterans who now wish to switch to lump sum payments should request Form 29-336 from VA and select option 1. This would allow widows to select monthly payments should they deem it necessary. Veterans should mail completed forms to the VA insurance center where they pay premiums, officials said.
